Mayor Attacks Bulletin On Its Paving Campaign

Mayor Harry D. Ainlay attacked The Edmonton Bulletin Friday night for its editorial campaign to have the city embark on a more ambitious street paving program.

In an address to the Kinmen Club at Macdonald Hotel, Mayor Ainlay said that if The Bulletin's editorials were "intended to be humorous, they were in bad taste."

"If they were intended to be facts, they were very humorous," he said.

Even if the city had a $200,000 paving reserve, he said, Edmonton could not do one more block of paving than the city has already contracted for.

There are many miles of streets in Edmonton which will never be paved, he said.

Complete text of his address: Recently the people of Edmonton have been bombarded by a series of editorials in a local paper dealing with civic matters. If these editorials were intended to be humorous they were in very bad taste. If intended to be facts, they were very humorous.

Edmonton has experienced, this year, a spring condition worse than any in the history of the city. In spite of this fact, we have been extremely fortunate, compared to many places on the continent.

A recent editorial dealt with the paving question and suggested that there were about 435 miles of streets in Edmonton, and to pave these would require about $20,000,000, and the suggestion was that the city borrow the money and do this paving. There are several ridiculous ideas in this suggestion.

WOULD BOOST TAXES
First of all, the amount required would be nearer $50,000,000, and if $20,000,000 would do the job, it requires about 8% to pay carrying charges and retirement of debt. This would mean an annual charge of about $1,800,000, which would, in turn, mean an increase of about 20 mills in taxation. This amount

Mayor Ainlay's Paving Excuse

Mayor Harry D. Ainlay undertakes to castigate The Edmonton Bulletin for saying that everybody in Edmonton is saying—that Edmonton's streets and sidewalks and lanes are a costly and intolerable disgrace.

He undertakes to blast this newspaper for something it did not say at all. The demand of The Edmonton Bulletin was not for a whirlwind paving campaign to finish up all paving in a year, but for an outside engineering survey to show a bewildered administration what to do.

The Edmonton Bulletin stated plainly that it asked for no miracles, only for a little intelligent constructive action.

These are the facts to which any honest newspaper devoted to the public's interest must draw attention:

1. Edmonton has atrocious streets and sidewalks and lanes, laden with mud or dust, that not only inconvenience the public but cost huge sums each year in damage to homes, business premises, motor cars and health.

2. Other cities of a size comparable to Edmonton's do not have these conditions.

3. Quite clearly the civic administration is not willing or not able to bring Edmonton's street standards up to those of other cities.

That is why, in view of this administrative deficiency, The Edmonton Bulletin urged that an outside engineering survey be made by some organization like the Harland Bartholomew Associates who are experienced in providing solutions for the problems of seedy cities.

Mayor Ainlay's apology for present conditions and his attempt to excuse them only emphasize the soundness of The Bulletin's demand. Mayor Ainlay's speech before the Kinmen Club Friday night makes it appallingly clear that neither he nor his colleagues have any solution for a situation that has become disastrously impossible.

The mayor's reply to our criticism is unsatisfactory and unconvincing because he clings to the obsession that concrete is necessary to Edmonton's street paving and he makes this an excuse for slow progress.

There is very considerable doubt about concrete being necessary. In fact, experts of high professional standing declare that street paving capable of bearing 70,000 pounds weight could be laid without one yard of cement.

It is the function of a civic administration, not of a newspaper, to work out the financial details of improvements which will give Edmonton people the same services as are enjoyed by residents of other Canadian cities.

Edmonton people demand nothing unreasonable of their administration. They only want what other cities have got—and were able to get without the terrific financial burdens Mayor Ainlay conjures up.

If Mayor Ainlay and his colleagues throw up their hands in the face of these normal and natural demands, the need for an immediate outside engineering survey becomes even more imperative.—EDITOR.

MAYOR'S JOB GOES BEGGING

LAKE SUCCESS, May 8.—(CP)—The job of mayor of Jerusalem went begging today as an air of pessimism and futurity hung over United Nations headquarters.

With Britain ready to drop her Palestine mandate May 15, delegates have less than a week to meet the crisis. With the giving up of the British mandate an administrative vacuum will be left in the embattled Holy Land.

In a desperate effort to do something to bridge the gap, a 12-member working group scheduled sessions for today.

Mud to Stay A Bit Longer

Put down that dust mop, mother, the mud is going to stay for another while.

At least that's the indication given today by the weatherman. He says spring has had another setback in Central and Southern Alberta as general rains continue to fall in most sections.

A weather "disturbance" lies stationary over the province and little change is expected today.

However, of Sol broke through here this a.m. but cloudy skies are threatening.

Sunday looks good. Clear and warmer, he says.

No More Foolin' for Pat Ashby—He's Taking to Tenting on Hill

By DICK JACKSON
Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, May 8.—Through fooling around with his troubles, Pat Ashby, Social Credit MP for East Edmonton intends setting up shop and housekeeping on the lawn on Parliament Hill.

Last night he wired the folks back home on his northern Alberta farm to bring him a pup-tent, folding camp cot, fleeced sleeping bag and coal-oil stove.

With this equipment, pitched below Parliament's Peace Tower, he figures he will be able to cure

2-A fracture of what he defines as "the upper deck of my store teeth."

The claustrophobia, he reported, had been caused by having to share an office "only really big enough for one member" with Fred D. Shaw, Social Credit MP for Red Deer.

A man of education—McGill, Oxford and Alberta University—he needs "room to think," so yesterday he hunted through the ancient west block for a vacant office.

What vacant offices there might have been available to a deserving MP he found occupied by rats.

SOFT SOAP "BOMB" HAD EXPERTS SCARED

CHICAGO, May 8.—(AP)—C. Essen of Pittsburgh gave Harry L. Linsky, a research designer here, a few rocky moments yesterday.

Opening a package from Essen, Linsky beheld a jar containing a milky substance. Attached to the jar were two orange wood blocks and a long wire.

He telephoned the police bomb squad. The explosive experts decided the odd-looking parcel was harmless, but they telephoned the sender anyway.

"It's a good invention," they were told. "I'm sending along a letter telling how it works. The stuff in the jar? Why, it's soft soap."

The invention? A soap dispenser.

Flood Victims Being Moved

RCMP and RCAF personnel today are carrying out evacuation operations of close to 25 families in the Rossington and Manola districts, 50 miles northwest of Edmonton, as the rampaging Pembina river continued to swell.

At the Rossington the flood situation still remained critical this morning and no let-up was in sight for "three or four days."

RCMP have put three boats into operation in the small Northern Alberta hamlet and were making a general survey of the surrounding area today.

They expect to evacuate several families today and take supplies to others who are marooned on their lands or in houses. The residents are on their hands wherever possible to handle their stock and avert heavy losses.

Hand Grenade Kills One, Injures Six

FRANKFURT, May 8.—(AP)—A German boy was killed yesterday and six other children were injured by the explosion of a wartime hand grenade they tapped against a wall in play.

Born in Ontario, Irwin came west to Calgary in 1890 to work in the first Hudson's Bay Company store. Later he went into business for himself and headed the John Irwin Grocery Company for 30 years. He retired 15 years ago.

First elected in 1926 he was re-elected as Calgary member in 1930 and again in 1935.

Besides his widow, survivors include three sons, Leslie, Edmonton, Frederick, Toronto, and Hugh of Calgary; and two daughters, Mrs. Ruth Armstrong, Victoria, and Mrs. Volney Coyle of Calgary.

CALGARY, May 8.—As though to provide the proper atmosphere for resumption of the Allan Cup finals here Saturday night between Edmonton Flyers and Ottawa Senators it was snowing briskly when the players of both clubs hopped out of bed this morning.

An all-night rain had changed into what promised to be an all-day snow storm.

According to reliable information William J. (Bill) Tobin and Cecil (Tiny) Thompson, Chicago Black Hawks' board of strategy will be on hand for the fifth game of the series.

Tobin, of course, is the onetime nemesis of Edmonton Eskimos who has worked his way up the hockey ladder to the post of chief executive of the Windy City aggregation.

Thompson, also formerly a goal-keeper and rated one of the greatest in the history of hockey, is the former coach of the Chicago Black Hawks.

Two Back-Benchers Become Ministers

Two government back-benchers in the Alberta legislature were promoted to cabinet rank this morning, Premier Ernest Manning announced.

The changes in the cabinet involved the transfer of two other portfolios.

The two new cabinet ministers who will occupy front benches at the next session of the Alberta legislature are Dr. J. L. Robinson, Medicine Hat, who becomes minister of industries and labor, and David Ure, Red Deer, who assumes the portfolio of agriculture.

Hon. D. B. MacMillan, former minister of agriculture, became minister of public works and of railways and telephones under the re-shuffle.

Hon. C. E. Gerhart, former minister of industries and labor takes over the post of provincial secretary.

Mr. Gerhart will retain also the municipal affairs department in addition to his new appointment.

Hon. A. J. Hooke who had been provincial secretary as well as minister of economic affairs will retain the economic affairs portfolio only.

Death of Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works, last week created a cabinet vacancy which has been filled by re-allocation of portfolios and the promotion of the two government supporters.

The new minister of agriculture, David Alton Ure was first elected to the Alberta legislature in a by-election at Red Deer in 1943 and was re-elected at the general election of 1944. The new minister is 37 years old.

His interests have been linked to that of the farmers of Alberta from his earliest days, according to Mr. Manning, when he made the announcement of his appointment.

At the present time, Mr. Ure is an auctioneer, has a farm implement agency at Red Deer and is engaged in farming operations.

The Red Deer member has always been an outspoken supporter of government policies, in the house and on the hustings.

The allocation of the department of industries and labor to Dr. Robinson indicates the government's confidence in his understanding of our problems, Mr. Manning said.

Labour has pressed for some time for a separate department to administer industrial problems. The work was formerly carried on by Mr. Gerhart who had the additional burden of municipal affairs to attend to.

Mr. Manning said Dr. Robinson's service on successive legislative committees studying revision of the Alberta Workmen's Compensation Act had indicated his administrative ability and his sense of justice.

Dr. Robinson, a chiropractor, was born in Ireland in 1890. He was among the first of the Social Credit members to be elected, coming to office with the Aberhart government in 1935. He has represented Medicine Hat continuously since that time.

Hon. D. B. MacMillan who moves from agriculture to public works, "undoubtedly" for Mr. Fallow for many years, Mr. Manning pointed out.

He was elected for the Lacombe constituency in 1935 and was appointed minister of agriculture in Dec. 1940.

Expansion of the work of the department of industries and labor was a factor in inducing the removal of the portfolio from Mr. Gerhart, Mr. Manning said.

The lighter duties of the provincial secretary's department will give the municipal affairs minister more time to devote to the implementation of the judge tax report, tabled at the last session of the legislature.

Opening of the London agency-general's office has greatly expanded the work of the department of economic affairs, Mr. Manning said. Mr. Hooke will be fully occupied with that branch of the government and as a chairman of the Joint Service Council. The latter body deals with problems of the civil service and includes salary classifications and listings.

Jerusalem Jews, Arabs Hold Fire

By CARTER L. DAVIDSON
JERUSALEM, May 8.—(AP)—Jerusalem's cease-fire, agreed to by Arabs and Jews to allow negotiations for a permanent truce in the Holy City, went into effect today. In the first hour, not a shot was heard.

An official British communiqué said last night Arab military leaders ordered their forces to cease fire in the Holy City at noon.

A Jewish agency spokesman commented, "The moment the Arabs stop firing on shall stop also."

The British statement said Arab league leaders agreed to the truce at a three-hour meeting in Jericho yesterday with Gen. Sir Alan Gordon Cunningham, Palestine high commissioner.

The session was attended by a United Nations truce commission composed of the consult general of the United States, France and Belgium.

LETTER RECALLED
The Jewish spokesman recalled a letter from the agency to Sir Alan April 9 in reply to the latter's plea for a cease fire.

The letter said: "The Arabs started these attacks and as soon as they stop them we shall do so too. That goes for Jerusalem as well as anywhere else in Palestine."

Informants said the chief point at issue was the Jerusalem-Tel Aviv road. The Jews insist that the road be kept open, but the Arabs are said to want the road closed on the understanding Arabs will transport food and water to Jerusalem's 100,000 Jews.

Announcement of the Arab cease-fire came while the Holy City was undergoing its heaviest fighting in a week.

30-MINUTE EXCHANGE
Arabs at the Jaffa gate and Jews in the Yemen Moshe district exchanged shots for 30 minutes until silenced by British cannon fire. In south Jerusalem Jews threw a smoke screen over their quarter. British forces countered with parachute flares.

Fighting was reported also in other sections of the city. The liner George sailed from Haifa yesterday with 1,300 British troops and 500 British Palestine police aboard. British plans to complete their evacuation of Palestine by Aug. 1.

would more than double our present city debt. If $500,000 were required, it would be correspondingly greater.

Secondly, There are many miles of streets in the 435 mentioned which likely will never be paved, and if paved, the people could not afford the frontage tax necessary.

Thirdly, If the city had $300,000 in its reserve fund for paving, we could not do one more block of paving than we have already contracted for.

EDITOR UNINFORMED

Apparently the editor is not aware of these facts, or that there has been and still is, a cement shortage. The amount of paving done in the last three years, while much greater than for many years in the past, has been decreased not from lack of funds but by materials.

Our people have had their heads down this spring because of the lateness of the season and flooding conditions. It does not remedy this situation by having them read editorials not based on fact and exaggerating conditions.

Everyone knows that our city has not been clean during these winter and spring months, but most people realize that there are reasons beyond our control for this. When our plant burned down last fall, it made it impossible for us to buy the sand for our streets and we had to depend almost entirely on cinders, which naturally appear dirty on the streets. We have a situation in Edmonton which is uncommon to most cities, in that during the winter season we have thawing and freezing conditions which necessitate putting some traction on the streets to give traction.

The city administration does not object to criticism, providing that it is fair and based on facts.

War-Shattered Europe Feels Peace Far Away

By Stuart Underhill

LONDON, May 8.—(CP)—Frail President Benes of Czechoslovakia, speaking at Prague a few weeks after his country had fallen under Communist control, said in trembling voice:

"Three years after the most terrible war in human history the peace we yearn for with all our hearts does not exist between the nations."

His words summed up the weariness and anxiety that have deepened in Europe in the months since Germany's unconditional surrender May 7, 1945.

Millions of Europeans who hoped security would follow the downfall of Nazism now live in fear of another war as they listen to the bickering of Russia and her former allies.

Civil war drags on in Greece and the Communist shadow extends steadily westward. Even in Britain, engrossed by vital domestic problems, members of parliament debate the possibilities of atomic warfare as coolly—as one indignant woman member cried—as if they were discussing their summer holidays.

RIFT CAUSES ANXIETIES

There is unanimous agreement that today's anxieties stem directly from the rift that has developed between Russia and the West.

One well-known writer on foreign affairs, trying to analyze the situation in a conversation, said the root of present-day difficulties is that the balance of power in Europe has ceased to exist.

"Hitherto the nations of Europe have grouped themselves in blocs," he said, "if one nation went too far—as Germany did—the scales tipped and the opposing bloc was brought into action against it."

"Now Europe, including Britain, is so shattered by the war that there is no bloc to counter Russia. Not even the much talked of Western union can do that—not at the present, at any rate."

RUSSIA AGAINST WORLD

"The balance of power has left Europe—it now is Russia against the world, not just the continent. The balance has Russia on one side, and the United States and other Western Powers on the other."

"This threat of Communism has had one advantage—it has awakened the United States to the dangers of the world situation. Americans are taking an interest in Europe I would have thought impossible three years ago. This is represented by the Marshall aid program—the most important development in Europe since the war."

At Whitecourt the situation was almost completely relieved although a considerable amount of land is still under water.

The Sturgeon river, just north of Edmonton, appears to have hit its peak during Friday's rain. No further rise or damage is expected.

In Manitoba, the most seriously hit province during the last few weeks, residents believed they had seen the last of the series of dangerous crises.

Seventeenth death contributed to floods in the prairie provinces, was reported in Saskatchewan Friday night. Nine-year-old Dennis Dill drowned when he attempted to swim his horse across the swollen Red River in the Porcupine Plain district.

In British Columbia, fears were expressed concerning the still rising Fraser river. Spring rains and late thaws were sending mountain streams tumbling down into the Fraser.

One Hurt, $5,000 Loss In Box Company Fire

One man was injured and nearly $5,000 damage resulted late Friday when fire broke out in the Northern Alberta Box Company storage shed at 80 street and 114 avenue.

Injured was Leslie Duthie, 28, 10150 131 street.

He fell from a pile of lumber from which he was watching the blaze.

He suffered a bruised back and was taken to Royal Alexandra hospital.

Flames broke out in a storage shed next to the company's main plant about 11:30 p.m.

The fire had spread extensively before firemen were notified and reached the scene.

The shed was destroyed and damage was done to an adjoining office.

In the shed were several thousand boxes, a sawdust bin and half a carload of tin pails.

The pails were stored by the Edmonton Produce Company.

Two trucks, housed in an insulated garage inside the storehouse, escaped serious damage.

Both were scorched.

Contents of the office suffered water damage, but company officials said today all records are intact.

A night watchman, George Ungarian, reported that no trace of the fire was seen when he checked the buildings at 11:15 p.m.

Two city fire calls, five and seven, responded to the alarm.

They were under direction of Chief James Macgregor and district chief Thomas Hardy.

An estimated 1,500 people struggled through mud to view the blaze.

Witness Admits His Love For Accused Girl Slayer

CALGARY, May 8.—(CP)—Melville Simpson, 64, chief Crown witness in the trial of Bernice Dubensky, 20, charged with the June 25 murder of Chinese tailor Mah Kuo-Wing, testified yesterday that "I was in love with her (Miss Dubensky)."

He made the statement shortly before completing his testimony after almost two days in the witness box.

During cross-examination, the former Three Hills farmer admitted that his wife had found evidence in her home that Simpson had been in contact with a young girl in 1945, a short time before she left him.

Simpson was the 19th witness to be called in the trial which opened in supreme court Monday. Another 20 witnesses are expected to be called for the prosecution.

APPEALED TO FATHER

Thursday Simpson said that Miss Dubensky had told him last July that she had killed the Chinese tailor.

Simpson said during his efforts to help Miss Dubensky to return to him he had told her father she had said she killed the Chinese and he had told her to return to him.

Simpson said he had told her to return to him after she left him last December. One was dated the 22nd and Simpson said this was Dec. 22, Crown Prosecutor Blanchard read it as follows:

"Bernice, you promised over the phone you would come over this evening and you haven't showed up. Well you are asking me to stand up now which I can't do."

Next day, Simpson said, he telephoned the chief of police and asked if the police had received any information about the murder. He did not give his name or the name of Miss Dubensky. He said the chief of police had told him that she had killed the Chinese tailor.

Three letters were tendered which Simpson identified as letters he had sent to Miss Dubensky asking her to come back to him after she left him last December. One was dated the 22nd and Simpson said this was Dec. 22, Crown Prosecutor Blanchard read it as follows:

Drug Not Safe to Use

OTTAWA, May 8.—(BUP)—The health and drug division of the Department of National Health and Welfare issued an urgent warning today against the use of intravenous dectroster solutions produced by Cutter Laboratories, Berkeley, Cal.

The warning was addressed particularly to the Maritime provinces, Quebec, Alberta and British Columbia, where it is understood that these products are most widely distributed.

Contamination has been discovered in certain intravenous dectroster solutions produced by the Cutter Laboratories, the department said. It added that all hospitals and other institutions are urgently requested to withdraw these products from use at once.

The remaining $41,000.00 will be divided among Albania, the United States, Australia, Belgium, Canada, Denmark, Egypt, France, the United Kingdom, Greece, India, Pakistan, Luxembourg, Norway, New Zealand, the Netherlands, Czechoslovakia, Union of South Africa and Yugoslavia.

Brothers Meet After 46 Years' Separation

Forty-six years and thousands of miles later, two brothers met today for the first time since 1902 when the CNR transcontinental pulled into Edmonton depot.

O. J. Biollo, 10554 78 avenue, who left Italy in 1902, met his older brother, Father P. Biollo, an Italian priest who played an active part with partisan groups in Italy through the years of the second World War.

Desperate Try To Plug Well

Materials being pumped into the eschinate Atlantic No. 3 oil well today include 10,000 pounds of feathers, 28 tons of redwood fibre from California, 55 tons of cottonseed hulls, and unstated quantities of Balsam of Peru.

This assortment of material is being put down in an effort to close off the highly developed porous zones that have absorbed thousands of pounds of mud and cement used in efforts to seal the well up.

The feathers are being mixed with mud before being pumped into the well.

Cotton seed hulls and the wood fibre will expand when put down with the water and it is thought that the feathers will cushion them in the pores and hold them there during the expanding process.

The well is being pumped to nine times its original volume.

Pumping will be under way this afternoon.

Cement will be put down when sufficient time to expand.

Fall From Train Has Fatal Result

The man was found Thursday night beside the tracks about two miles from Huallen.

Happy boarded the train at Huallen.

RCMP report the coroner has been notified and it is likely an inquest will be held.

Car Owners Pay And Pay for Muddy Roads

Edmonton automobile owners pay a staggering bill each year for the city's 925 miles of unpaved streets and lanes.

C. H. Grant, K.C., chairman of Edmonton branch of the Alberta Motor Association and counsel for the AMA, said today that a complete paving job in Edmonton would cost motorists costs in the city almost in half.

For every $4.00 spent for fuel and maintenance on fully paved streets it cost a motorist $7.00 on low-grade roads, Mr. Grant said.

Statistics concerning comparative costs of motoring on various types of thoroughfares were obtained by Mr. Grant from the publication of the National Automobile Association in New York City. They represent long and exhaustive research, he said.

In the case of gasoline, one dollar's worth of this fuel on a paved street stretches to $1.20 on a gravel road and $1.47 on a dirt surface.

Oil costs follow a similar pattern. Tires and inner tubes are in the following relative costs on the three types of roads mentioned:

EDMONTON COMES TO HER DOORSTEP by fast plane as Mrs. Dorothy Roberts receives her first copy of new Edmonton Bulletin air edition from carrier boy Dick Gleason in Whitehorse. Mrs. Roberts now gets her Bulletin just four hours later than if she were still living in Edmonton. Dick and Pat Brame were first two carrier boys to deliver air edition.

AIR EDITION PROVES SENSATION

Northland Greets Bulletin As Evidence of Progress

By Jack DeLong
Bulletin Staff Reporter

WHITEHORSE, May 8.—Edmonton is in fact the gateway to the stored north today.

The new Air Edition of The Edmonton Bulletin, delivered in hundreds of Whitehorse homes, nine hours after copies rolled off the presses, 1,100 miles away, is the reason.

Loaded aboard a sleek Canadian Pacific Airlines plane in Edmonton at 1:30 p.m. MST, the breezy new Air Edition of The Bulletin soared through three time zones.

It crossed the rich farm lands of the Peace River district, over the ice-locked Nelson, Stikine and Nahanni rivers, above the lofty, saw-toothed mountain ranges of North B.C. and the Yukon to reach Whitehorse airport at 8:20 p.m. Yukon Time.

A squad of eager young carrier merchants was on hand to grab the papers as they were hoisted out of the plane on cargo hatch.

In a matter of minutes the youngsters were speeding down the long steep hill from the airport to town on their bicycles. Minutes later the first Air Editions were being delivered.

Appropriately the first subscriber to receive paper was Mrs. Dorothy Roberts, a former Edmonton resident.

To scores of other former Edmontonians the arrival of The Bulletin Air Edition was like a visit from a friend or relative from the old home town.

There was the victory of the Edmonton Flyers over Ottawa Senators in the Allan Cup final, the first Yukon centre of 3,500 north of the ninety feasts of Pug Yung, Elmer Krolier, Morey Rimsand and the rest of the team.

That is to say they knew of the hockey games in a distant sort of way before the advent of The Bulletin's Air Edition.

Now the Whitehorse sport lovers are right "in the game" again with newsy ring-side seats so as to speak. To say that the edition was delivered with enthusiasm is no wild exaggeration.

"The far too few copies that were available for newsworld sale were sold faster than lemonade on the hottest day of summer."

But a life to be lived—from the cradle to the grave. Christ's seven Sacraments are the answer to man's seven basic needs.

Man is born, but he needs to be reborn a Christian in the Sacrament of Baptism. He is nourished, but he needs Christian nourishment in Holy Communion, the Sacrament of the Eucharist. He grows, but he needs to grow and be strengthened in Christian life by the Sacrament of Confirmation. He is cured of disease, but he needs a remedy for sin, so destructive of Christian life, and this he finds in the Sacrament of Penance.

Man lives in society which needs officials to promote the common good—and for his life in the Church, he finds officials provided by the Sacrament of Orders. He perpetuates the human race in marriage, which Christ made the Sacrament of Matrimony. And at death, he needs consolation and strength for the last dread hour which he finds in the Last Anointing—the Sacrament of Extreme Unction.

Would you like to know more about each of the seven Sacraments? How they can help you to live the seven basic needs of your life? Then write today for a free pamphlet which gives important information concerning them. Ask for Pamphlet No. 5-N.

But Confession—the Sacrament of Penance—is only one of the seven Sacraments Christ left in His Church. Yes, seven—no more and no less! Christ's religion is not merely a message to be accepted,

Bridge Aid Govt. Obligation—AMA

Association President Says It Should Be Considered

Alberta's government should help finance Edmonton's proposed extension of the high level bridge, Charles Grant, president of the Alberta Motor Association said today.

Because they have not considered giving assistance, it is to reason why they should not consider it, Mr. Grant added.

Friday Premier Manning said no consideration had been given the matter by the government.

Suggestion that the provincial government should participate in the cost of the high level bridge revision was made at a recent meeting of the Alberta Motor Association.

The Association considered such participation necessary because of the vital link the bridge forms in the provincial highway system, the Alaska Highway, and the Northern route of a Trans-Canada Highway System when built.

The provincial government also has a responsibility, Mr. Grant said, to maintain communications for the development of the resources of the province — a responsibility acquired with the transfer of natural resources to the province.

The provincial government contributed $175,000 toward the original cost of the bridge, which was $291,254.

Dominion government contribution was $126,000 and the City of Edmonton, Strathcona and the street railway $28,000.

The Canadian Pacific Railway contributed $802,354 toward the cost of the bridge.

Ten per cent reduction in fares between Edmonton and the coast cities of Vancouver, Victoria and Seattle, was announced by Trans-Canada Air Lines.

On June 1, when TCA inaugurates service across Canada with its 40-passenger North Star aircraft, further reductions have been promised.

Muddled Thinking About Russia

Mr. Jack Scott, who writes sprightly comment in another corner of this page, fell victim to a popular political delusion in an article last Wednesday when he offered extravagant praise to John Steinbeck's "A Russian Journal".

Mr. Steinbeck, as Mr. Scott points out, grew weary of taking newspaper reports about Russia and so decided to go and see for himself. His "Russian Journal" is the story of what he found.

Mr. Scott expressed amusement that Mr. Steinbeck discovered the Russian people to be exactly like ourselves, with the same personal ambitions, the same family ties and the same hatred of war.

What did Mr. Scott expect? Did he think that all Russians had horns? Of course the great bulk of the Russian people are like men and women in every other part of the globe, kindly, humane and friendly.

But what has that got to do with the menace of Russian Communism? It is not the Russian people who are trying to fasten the Communist ideology on the neck of the world, but a small group of Bolshevik leaders who hold the Russian people in the hollow of their hands.

Not many people would accept the observations of Mr. Steinbeck with the happy credulity of Mr. Scott. Just because Mr. Steinbeck has successfully romanticized squalor in his mediocre novels, some folk have jumped to the conclusion that he is a heroic champion of the common man. And this in turn, they reason, makes him an authority on world politics.

Ascension Day Important Festival

Ascension Day, celebrated in the Christian Church last Thursday, is one of the three most important festivals in the Faith. Only two take precedence over it, Easter and Whitsun—the occasions which mark first, the Crucifixion and Resurrection of Jesus and, secondly, the descent of the Holy Ghost on the apostles, as promised by Christ.

It is commonly asked by those semi-Christians who would "liberalize" and "reform" the Faith why such miraculous events as the Ascension are included in Christian doctrine. It would be so much easier, they say, to strip Christianity of everything miraculous and leave only its bare essentials.

Carelessness With Firearms

The story of a woman being fatally shot in Grand Centre with a shotgun which, standing loaded in a corner, was accidentally knocked over and discharged is only the latest in a long series of such accidents in Northern Alberta.

Just a few weeks ago, an Indian boy was killed with a rifle. Almost every week records some fatality or near-fatality through carelessness with firearms.

People seem to forget that any kind of a firearm with an explosive and a projectile in it is a potential instrument of death whether it is standing in a corner or aimed with a finger on the trigger.

The muddle-headedness of this thinking is quite evident even in those passages from "The Russian Journal" that are quoted delightfully by Mr. Scott.

For instance, Mr. Steinbeck quotes a Russian farmer as asking what the United States would do if the Soviets loaned money to Mexico to prevent the spread of Democracy.

Mr. Steinbeck pondered this one and came up with the following reply: "Well, I imagine we would declare war."

Mr. Steinbeck imagines wrong. Democracy has never yet declared war on those who prevent the spread of its ideology. Indeed, Democracy is not particularly concerned with the spread of its ideology since one of the bases of Democracy is utter freedom of political choice. It is only Communism that seeks proselytism.

Mr. Scott wrote, "The whole story of the desperate misunderstanding between the people of Russia and the people of the West . . ."

There is no misunderstanding between the people of Russia and the people of the West. The humanitarian and social angle does not enter into it at all. The people of Russia do not enter into it at all.

What concerns the West is not the people of Russia but the authoritarian rulers of Russia who are determined to impose their doctrine upon all the world by persuasion, by trickery or by force.

Neither Mr. Steinbeck nor Mr. Scott appears to understand that point.

There are two very good reasons why the Ascension is vital to Christian teaching.

The first is that it actually occurred. It is an authenticated and entirely proved event. To leave it out would be to suppress vital Christian evidence which would be even more iniquitous, if possible, than to include false or manufactured evidence.

The second reason why the Ascension is vital to Christian teaching is that it is a concrete instance of a human body entering physically into heaven.

It bears out the promise of the creed and of Christ that the bodies of believers shall be raised from the dead and shall enjoy eternal felicity in the flesh.

The law takes a very positive stand on the possession of small arms that may be concealed. The owner of a pistol or revolver or automatic must register possession of the weapon and take out a license to carry it.

Surely a shotgun or rifle carried or standing loaded when there is no immediate or urgent use for it is just as dangerous as a pistol in the hip pocket.

Perhaps the long list of such accidents and fatalities could be curtailed if it were made unlawful to possess a loaded weapon unless it is intended for immediate use.

By Harold L. Weir

Mother's Day Treads On Very Dangerous Ground

This piece of pulchritudinous prose is inspired by the immensity of Mother's Day, the most delicate of human emotions as the cheap and vulgar expression of the obvious involved in the occasion.

Nothing so vigorously emphasizes the almost complete disappearance of original thought as all that progeny, juvenile and adult, have to get together on an appointed day to sing in chorus the praises of their progenitors.

It is significant of the disastrous degeneration of the human mind in this age that even the most fundamental instincts, the finest and most gentle instincts, have to be stirred up by promoters of a march annually in one fashion and a shoddy parade of another.

Certainly decent people love their mothers. There are very few who doubt about it.

Why, then, all this hullabaloo about something that is as obvious as the frequently quoted fact that two and two make four, which is also true, I believe, unless Mr. Gromyko has vetoed it.

I think this Pharisee might very well have concluded by saying: "For I send my mother a bunch of daffodils and a greeting card."

I like somewhat better the publisher who, standing afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but smote upon his breast, saying: "God be merciful to me a sinner."

And I think the publican might very well have concluded his prayer by saying: "For I have nothing to offer my mother for all her anguish and care but my dear love and I am afraid it is very little to give to one who has done so much for me."

which greeting card people and others hasten to cash in on one of the most delicate of human emotions as the cheap and vulgar expression of the obvious involved in the occasion.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Calgary Favors Ottawa Players

Editor, Bulletin—As a hockey fan, an Edmontonian, an Albertan, a Western Canadian, it was very disappointing to witness the support (or lack of it) given to the "Edmonton Flyers" by Calgary fans on the occasion of the fourth game of the Allan Cup finals, played in the Victoria Arena Wednesday evening.

Sports writers of both Calgary and Edmonton newspapers have recently been reminding one and all of the grand support and tremendous ovation accorded the Calgary Stampeders when, on Edmonton ice, they won the Allan Cup and brought that coveted trophy to Alberta for the first time. These same writers went out on a limb to predict that as the representatives of Western Canada, the W.C.H.L., and of our own Alberta, the Edmonton team could fully expect to receive an even greater reception from the fans of Calgary than the Stampeders received here two years ago.

I will admit that the Edmonton Club did receive some support, but it seemed to come from the 300-400 Edmontonians who were fortunate enough to be able to make the trip south for this game.

It would appear that Calgary's sympathies are with the Ottawa Senators, and that Southern Alberta favors an Eastern Canadian club to retain the Allan Cup.

Well Calgary? Here's your chance to show us we're wrong—we can't make the trip for Saturday's game, but we'll be listening!

American Way Of Life

Editor, Bulletin—In recent times we have been hearing quite a lot about the American way of life and I have doubtless many like myself are somewhat confused as to just what this expression means.

What is the American way of life? It is that which is enunciated in the preamble to the Declaration of Independence which states: "We believe that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights—that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

Or is it in the disgraceful incident in Alabama this week where a Negro was arrested and charged with disorderly conduct because he essayed to enter a hall by the entrance reserved for colored people?

There are those eyes, on both sides of the Atlantic, who read the foregoing declaration as "We believe that all white men are created equal." The extent to which Americans and Canadians repudiate this negation of democracy will be evident from the editorials in the press throughout the country. My own opinion is, that so long as one state in the Union adheres to this vicious racism, the less we hear about the American way of life the better.

A. I. MURDOCH,
9022 85 Street.

Education Is The Answer

Editor, Bulletin—All who are concerned about democracy should face up squarely to this matter of racial discrimination. It is the evil, the blot on the face of our civilization, which has brought upon himself, there is probably none more insidious than the race myth. We know how well it served their purpose. But it is a myth, completely disproved by science.

Since this is a vital aspect of good citizenship, surely each has a duty to himself and society as a whole, to become acquainted with the fundamental anthropology. There are excellent, simply written sources, such as Ruth Benedict's "Race and Culture" and "The Making of a Man," and a number of books by Carey McWilliams, including "Brothers Under the Skin."

There is no evil we can not overcome by education and unity. And this is one of the outstanding evils of our time. Let us accept the challenge.

Ottawa Gets Face Lift

Editor, Bulletin—Before the present Government spends millions of the taxpayers' money in beautifying Ottawa, let them note that hundreds of people all over Canada can see many ways in which the money could be more wisely and humanely spent at the present time.

"Where is the grand scheme for social security for the people of Canada which was outlined and promised during the war? Why has the Government chosen the present time to raise the price of necessities of life, food, shelter and clothing are at prohibitive prices except for the wealthy?"

Why have the old and poor such a miserable pension that they cannot afford to buy enough to eat with food at present prices?

Why, with the English in such straits, and millions in Europe starving, does Ottawa have to have a beauty treatment? Why do we not want our money spent in lifting Ottawa's face at present?

MERELY TAXPAYER.

EDMONTON.

Three Wise Young Men

Editor, Bulletin—In this day and age when we hear so much talk about courtesy, or rather lack of it I had my faith in humanity revived the other night.

My wife and I are the fortunate holders of opinion tickets for the senior hockey games and on more than one occasion we were included to agree that there was no consideration for the other fellow's feelings.

One night, in the top row and we would no sooner get seated than a horde of persons would surround us and try to inform us that they had paid to see the game and that they were perfectly at liberty to use the lavatories, and that we should plant (and in this I do mean plant) their feet in our seats.

But to my delight a novel thing happened on Monday night. Three young men secured the vantage place on the back of our seats and were quite careful of our clothing and then at intermission they returned with a bottle of pop for us. Does any one need greater proof that thoughtfulness still exists?

D. K. LEWIS,

Smiles

A visitor to the village noticed that one inhabitant was treated with great respect by the others. "I observe," remarked the visitor, "that you all treat that man with considerable deference."

"Yes," was the answer, "he's one of the early settlers."

"Why," he asked, "he's the one. Why can't he be over 30 years of age?"

"That may be true," replied the old man, "but he pays all his bills on the first of the month."

Needing a new secretary, the firm's manager decided to have an interview with the secretary. Three girls were interviewed together.

"What two and two make?" the psychologist asked the first.

"Four," was the prompt answer.

"And the obvious thing here was the girl replied: 'It might be 22.'"

The third girl answered: "It might be 22 and it may be four."

When the girls had left the room, the psychologist turned triumphantly to his manager.

"There," he said, "that's what psychology does. The first girl said the obvious thing. The second and the third were going to have it both ways. Now, which girl will you hire?"

The manager did not hesitate. "I'll have the blonde with the blue eyes," he said.

Canada's First Music Festival

By Howard Stutchbury

Not many people know that the first musical festival in Canada was held in Edmonton. Here's how it happened:

In 1908 Earl Grey, then Governor General of Canada, announced a competition open to musicians of all ages to compete in Ottawa. G. H. V. Buley, was anxious to show the East what Alberta could do. He called Howard Stutchbury, then an active musician, to discuss the possibilities of sending some representation from the Province. There was a thriving Dramatic Society, but the expense of sending the members to compete in Ottawa appeared to be too great for the financial resources available.

"Stutch" discussed the matter with Vernon Harford, who was then, and still is, the Dean of the Musicians of Alberta. After talks were over with other musicians in the city, it was decided to suggest to the Governor that we inaugurate the Musical Festival on the lines of the famous Welsh Eisteddfod. A committee was formed, and the first Festival in Canada was held in All Saints School Room, on May 5, 1908.

The outstanding feature of the concert was the front of the hall, which numbered about 200 voices, and an orchestra of 40 voices, under the direction of Harford. It was a really magnificent show—the ladies in white, and all the gentlemen in formal evening dress.

Long before the doors of the rink were opened, a stream of people lined the walks in front, and there were upwards of 2,000 in attendance.

The Lieut-Governor and his party occupied seats in a carpeted box at the front of the hall, and His Honor presented the prizes and trophies to the winners.

Influence On Alberta's Life

It was surely a picturesque event, and one which had far-reaching results, because from that date not only our own Festival grew steadily in size and interest, gathering in its progress musicians and music lovers from the farthest points in Alberta, and having an increasingly strong influence on the educational life of the province, but this was the first attempt at a musical festival in Canada. The festival idea has now grown into a national life of the province, and hundreds of small festivals are held in the country. The 1945 festival was held in Portland, Oregon, the first in the U.S.

The Kiwanis Festival in Toronto is one of the notable events of the year, and has taken the prize of the Province of Ontario, although a large number of local festivals are held.

It is very difficult in this space to tell the story, or even begin to tell the story, of the festival and its effect on the cultural life of this province, and on Canada's, but we do think it has been worthwhile.

Ottawa—The "Globe" Royal Commission on Grain Marketing today gave its report on the future trading system and commended its continuance.

Judge Ferguson also advocated the building up of producers' pools instead of one Dominion wheat pool on the lines of the Australian wheat pool.

From abroad. They will be given work in mining, textile making and agriculture. Certain unskilled artisans will also be accepted for training. Britain is to increase exports of Scotch whisky this year to $500,000 profit. The whisky represents 72,500 bottles. At least 7,500,000 gallons will be going to hard currency countries. Whisky exports this year will earn Britain $15,000,000.

Western Farmers Are Victimized

Government Feed Policy Reduces Hog Production

OTTAWA, May 8.—(CP)—Douglas Harkness (PC-Calgary East) renewed in the Commons yesterday charges that government policies have led to a "terrific" reduction in hog production in Western Canada.

While western production has fallen off, eastern output has advanced, he said. This was because of the government policy of subsidizing western feed shipments to Eastern Canada.

It was an "arguable proposition" whether, that policy was the best for Canada as a whole. However, there was no doubt that the policy operated against Western Canada because it reduced the western farmer's income.

SURPLUS OF PORK
Evidence before the Commons price committee had indicated there would be a surplus of pork in Canada this year. What would the government do if such a surplus developed?

Could the surplus be sold to Britain? He asked for details of the 1949 brown contract soon to be negotiated with the United Kingdom.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner said more hogs are coming on the market than a year ago.

Shipments to Britain were about 25 per cent higher than the contract called for. At present "rates, the 1950,000-pound contract would be filled by mid-December."

SEEK MARKETS
He could not state whether Britain would take any surplus. Canada was trying to find the best possible markets for hog products.

Small sales had been made in Europe and possibly more could be sold there.

Negotiations for the 1949 contract would not begin until November or December.

Wheat Export Drop Worries Vancouver
VANCOUVER, May 8.—(CP)—The Canadian wheat board is considering a Vancouver request that all Alberta export grain be shipped via this port, it was learned yesterday.

It is hoped "favorable consideration" to the request will offset the recent slump in grain shipments through here. Last year only 25,000,000 bushels passed through Vancouver, compared with 60,000,000 in 1946.

Lot of Capital Dignity Lost as Joke Misses

OTTAWA, May 8.—(CP)—A lot of capital dignity was shed today as a senator, a member of Parliament and high-ranking government officials struggled out from under a backfired joke.

The moral seemed simply that margarine is no laughing matter. Not in Ottawa, anyway.

Four members of Ottawa's Board of Trade, returning Thursday night from the United States, brought these items as gifts from Washington Board of Trade:

1. A head of lettuce.
2. Some celery.
3. A couple of tomatoes.
4. Four pounds of margarine.

This is the catch: Margarine is illegal in Canada; and lettuce, celery and tomatoes are banned under foreign-exchange regulations.

CUSTOMS MISSED IT
Smack in the middle of the storm which blew up yesterday is a customs officer at Ottawa airport who apparently didn't spot the "contraband."

Senator Norman Paterson, one of the returning travellers, rushed to the customs man's defence.

"It was just a practical joke," said the senator, who, incidentally, was in Washington when the Canadian senate voted Wednesday to retain the margarine ban.

In a speech last week he supported the substitute for butter.

He called the customs officer "courteous and careful, innocent and inoffensive" and said he'd go straight to Revenue Minister McCann, if necessary, to make sure the man gets into no trouble.

"He didn't see the lettuce or the celery," said the senator, "but he was no way lax in his duty."

Apparently that was the view of the other board of trade members—Russell Boucher (PC-Carleton), President Keith Davidson and Secretary William Cairns.

OTHER SIDE TO STORY
There was another side to the story, though.

"This is not a funny story," said David Sim, deputy revenue minister for customs and excise.

P. Lorne Young, assistant deputy minister of customs, put it this way: "Margarine has been prohibited in Canada for half a century. . . . The customs officers were not doing his duty when he let that margarine through."

And L. H. Taylor, secretary of customs: "I can't see it. Even though the margarine was a gift, it shouldn't have come into the country."

Senator Paterson added one final touch about the margarine: "It looked like butter, it tasted like butter, perhaps it was butter. It said 'oleomargarine' on the package all right, but it was the finest butter I ever tasted."

Rembrandt, famous Dutch painter, was born of humble parents who recognized his ability as a child and sent him to study under Swaneburgh.

Date Not Yet Set To Call Session Dominion Chiefs

LONDON, May 8.—(CP)—The Evening News said yesterday a "full conference" of British ministers and prime ministers from the Dominions would be held next year at a date still to be fixed.

It added that Foreign Secretary Bevin likely would meet the dominions' external affairs ministers when they pass through London en route to the United Nations assembly in Paris in October.

A government source told the Canadian Press that Prime Minister Attlee "expressed hopes" that Commonwealth conference would be planned for as soon as possible but no arrangements have been completed as yet.

OTTAWA, May 8.—(CP)—Agriculture Minister Gardiner indicated in Commons last night that he is prepared to recommend the placing of a floor price under butter.

He said he has received recommendations urging the establishment of a butter floor price. He had the matter under consideration and planned to make some recommendations to the cabinet.

Earlier, Earl Drope (PC, Northumberland), urged that the government make its 1949 butter policy known now.

He said butter production would depend on that policy. There would be a butter shortage again next winter unless producers were assured a fair price. Producers should be told what the 1949 floor would be.

Drope said he cannot understand why the government is maintaining a ceiling on butter now that production is up to demand.

Gardiner Hints Elections In Sask. Will Be Delayed

OTTAWA, May 8.—(CP)—Agriculture Minister Gardiner expressed doubt in Commons yesterday that the expected Saskatchewan provincial election will be called within the next 30 days.

Speaking during study of agriculture estimates, he said there is "some reason" to believe that the election will not be called immediately.

His comments were prompted by the remark of a CCF member, while Gardiner was talking about prairie winds, that "there'll be a lot of wind out there within the next 30 days."

TODAY'S MESSAGE

Mother's Day

First proclaimed in 1914, Mother's Day has been annually set aside for special observance in honor of the home and motherhood. It is a wholesome and good sign when children honor and cherish their mothers. But for the thoughtful boy or girl, there is really no need for a Mother's Day to encourage him or her to prove affection and devotion. Nor do grown men or women need any special prompting to show kindness toward the person to whom they owe so much.

But there are, unfortunately, some whom Mother's Day should cause to search their inmost hearts: growing children who cause grief and worry to their mothers because of waywardness or disrespect; absent sons and daughters who neglect their mothers and have almost forgotten the homes where they were reared and knew such rich and tender love.

There was a mother once who poured out her life for her many children—she had four sons and five daughters—until they were happily and successfully married. But when she became a bedridden paralytic, not one of her children was willing to take her in. They did not even want to share in paying for her in a private home. Eventually she died, sad, lonely, neglected by all her children, in the charity ward of a city hospital.

The children wept when their mother died. They buried her with the proceeds of a policy for which one son had paid a small weekly premium. She is dead a long time now, but there is still no stone over her grave and none of her sons or daughters can even point out the plot where she lies.

This, happily, is a rare case. It is cited solely to emphasize the claim of mothers to the gratitude and love of their children by showing how shabby and mean in the eyes of decent men are those who fail to honor and remember the most truly unselfish friend they have ever known.

Mother, Son Preach In St. Andrew's Church

Mother's Day services in St. Andrew's Presbyterian church will be addressed by the wife and son of the minister. At the morning service Mrs. J. Gordon Troyer will preach and mothers from various organizations in the church will assist.

Mrs. Troyer preached her first Mother's Day sermon in St. Andrew's last year to an overflowing congregation. Her Mother's Day sermon has been traditional for a number of years.

Born at Wallaceburg, Ontario, she was formerly secretary to Hon. Arthur St. Clair Gordon who later became an Ontario cabinet minister. Married in 1930 she went with her husband to Cochrane, Ontario, to his first student-minister appointment where their son, Warner, who will be preaching Sunday evening was born.

Later, at Magnetawan in the highlands of Ontario Mrs. Troyer acted as treasurer for the late Dr. Howard A. Kelly former Head Surgeon of Johns Hopkins Hospital and University in his philanthropic work of the famous L. O. Cabin Club for young men of that area.

With the call for trained personnel during the last war Mrs. Troyer was senior secretary of the Canadian Power Boat Company, in Montreal, engaged in the outfitting of warships for the United States Navy. While her husband was overseas as army chaplain she became teller in the Bank of Nova Scotia, Westminister, B.C. As a minister's wife Mrs. Troyer was once referred to in the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada as "one who could grace any Manse of our church in this Dominion."

"Musical Places" Are Guest Artists

Mr. and Mrs. Lester C. Place, better known as the "Musical Places" of Spring City, Pennsylvania, U.S.A. will be the guest musicians at Edmonton Youth for Christ, Saturday evening, May 8 at 7:45 p.m. The Youth for Christ service will be conducted in the First Presbyterian Church. This young couple has presented the gospel in word and music throughout 35 states and Canada in different churches, well known Bible Conferences, Youth for Christ meetings, College chapel services and are graduates of the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, Illinois.

For several years they were associated with the "Young People's Church of the Air" broadcast heard coast to coast over the ABC network of which the Rev. Percy B. Crawford of Philadelphia, Pa., is the director.

Familiar hymns of the church will be rendered upon their marimbas, bells, saxophone and triple octave chimes. The latter instrument is an antique and one of the few that are still in existence today. Music is produced by shaking metal, tubular pipes suspended from a metal rack.

This marks the first appearance of the Places in Edmonton. They have been working in behalf of Youth for Christ throughout the Province since April and will remain here until June 1 when they return to the states.

And be ye kind one to another, tender-hearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you.—Ephesians 4:32.

Delegates Called For Liberal Meet To Name New Party Leader At National Convention

OTTAWA, May 8.—(CP)—When the national Liberal convention chooses a leader to succeed Prime Minister Mackenzie King, 1,286 persons will be entitled to vote.

Each constituency is entitled to send three delegates to the convention, opening Aug. 1. The two member ridings of Halifax and Queens (PEI) are entitled to six each. That makes a total of 730 delegates, or slightly more than half the total.

The call has gone out to constituency organizations to hold their conventions and select their delegates before June 30. Most of these meetings also will select nominees in case the first choices are unable to attend.

The constituency delegates will be chosen on the basis of the electoral districts. The second largest group of delegates will be the 126 Liberal members of parliament. The 119 Liberal candidates defeated in the last general election also are entitled to attend, along with the 64 Liberal senators.

One delegate is allowed for every four Liberal members of the provincial legislatures and defeated candidates in provincial elections, making a total of 122.

A group of 45 will comprise three officers from each University Liberal club. Each provincial Women's Liberal Association will have three officers; and two groups will have three officers also will come from each Young Liberal Provincial Association. These two groups will total 54. The Liberal provincial leaders and the heads of the party organizations in each province will be eligible to attend, along with the presidents of the three national Liberal organizations.

All-Lutheran Rally In $4,000,000 Appeal

Dr. T. F. Gullikson will address an all-Lutheran rally May 9 at the Lutheran church, to touch off a Lutheran World Action appeal for $4,000,000 in 1948 for world relief and reconstruction. The drive is sponsored by the National Lutheran Council, representing eight Lutheran Church bodies in the United States and Canada.

World service will get $2,500,000 of the total, to be used for "spiritual rehabilitation" in Europe, including aid to pastors, churches, and church institutions, and support of "orphaned" Lutheran missions in ten countries. Domestic postwar emergency work, including a special ministry to hospitalized veterans, migrant people, and college students, and resettlement of immigrant displaced persons, will receive $175,000, with the $300,000 remainder of the goal is unallocated.

A total of $17,135,356 has been raised for world relief by Lutheran World Action, in addition to $824,915 pounds of relief supplies valued at $5,393,902 shipped abroad by Lutheran World Relief, Inc., material aid arm of LWA.

Churches cooperating in this area rally are those of United Lutheran Church, American Lutheran Church, Evangelical Lutheran Church, United Danish Lutheran Church, and others.

Church, Augustana Synod, Rev. G. Becker is local rally chairman.

What Character does your handwriting Reveal?

Andrienne, internationally known handwriting analyst, will tell you things about you never knew before—your hidden talents, natural abilities, your proper vocation, the type of person you should marry, by scientifically analyzing your handwriting.

All you have to do is send twenty-five cents (in coin) and a Stamped Self-Addressed Envelope, together with a sample of your handwriting to Andrienne, care of the Edmonton Bulletin. With your stamped envelope, she will send you a sample of handwriting as you wish, but be sure to enclose twenty-five cents for each sample of handwriting.

As I mentioned last week, the inclination of your writing is a "heart" barometer measuring the degree of your affection. Last week I illustrated the right slope. Today I will show the very sloping form of writing of which Mae West's script is a good example.

My dear Miss Andrienne,

This is the way I write.

Mae West

That Mae West is well coated with confidence, poise, and self-reliance is ably illustrating capital letters. She is certainly not a victim of an inferiority complex nor is she handicapped by a quiet modest demeanour. Mae is essentially a showwoman and fully understands the value of her best foot forward.

An interesting feature of her personality is her unique combination of feminine charm and masculine deduction. Though she displays a great capacity for feeling, she does not let emotion interfere with cold reason.

She is amazingly practical. She could never be accused of being a clinging vine or indecisive. Her firm downstrokes and "T" bars reveal strong determination, willpower, and resistance.

She is much more painstaking and cautious than one would ordinarily suspect. Her frankness and candour, however, require no explanation, as they have well earned a place in posterity.

The writer of a very sloping right slant is extremely affectionate, passionate, sympathetic, sensitive and impulsive. These people are ardent and demonstrative lovers.

Next week I will discuss the backward slope.

Your Radio Review

So, now they want prices with their commercials, too. The Canadian Association of Broadcasters has appealed for a repeal of that section of the Canadian Broadcasting regulations which forbids the mentioning of prices on the air.

The matter is to come before a public hearing when the Board of Governors of the CBC meets in Montreal May 18 and 19.

In a recent editorial in his Canadian Broadcaster, Editor Richard G. Lewis writes, "The question of price-mentions may require hearing." From this listener's viewpoint it is hoped the sympathy is lacking.

Surely the listener to radio, as it exists in Canada today, endures enough extraneous matter along with the little bit of entertainment and enlightenment he receives, to not have to suffer through a price war on rutabagas waged between Grace's Grocery and the self-service around the corner.

With the end of that last sentence I can hear the supporters of the "no price" radio, roaring about the Johnson's wax commercials on the Fisher McGee and Molly program.

It must be admitted that these are interjected with a finesse and artistry that makes them almost acceptable, but they are virtually the only commercials of their kind on the air in North America.

Good as they may be, they cannot be accepted as an excuse for all the commercials that come out of a loudspeaker.

In support of his contention that price quotations can be regarded as a public service, Mr. Lewis, editor of the Canadian Broadcaster points out the fact that farm produce and stock prices are frequently broadcast.

However it must be remembered that the broadcast of an overall market price is far different from having every grocery store, hardware store or clothing store advertise its competitive prices in its radio announcements.

Net results, so far as the listener is concerned, and surely this great force, radio, owes him some consideration besides using him as a target for their handsomely remunerative selling messages, will be a further deterioration of his listening satisfaction.

Rumors are rampant about radio replacements during the next several months as the stars step out of the picture for the summer. Among the whisperings it is heard that the spine-tingle suspense is coming to the CFRN airwaves to replace the Dick Haynes show heard Thursday at 6:00.

Corliss Archer, the program heard earlier this year on Sunday evenings is reported to be coming back to fill in the Bob Hope slot also on CFRN Tuesday evening at 10.

Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy are going to give way, so it is said, to the Robert Shaw Choral Group. The group is composed of 30 selected professionals and their programs reportedly consist of vocal arrangements ranging from bebop to Brahms. Shaw was once called the King of Sing by a well-known national weekly magazine.

Though only 31, while directing Fred Warms' famous choral group, he was the winning singing choruses for Koussevitzky and Stokowski. This is only a sample of his many accomplishments.

In 1942, the National Association of Composers and Conduct-

Heinrich Rau, veteran German Communist leader, heads the Soviet-backed government in the Russian zone of Germany. The newly-formed body is known as the Economic Commission.

He is reported to be the best choral conductor in the United States.

Via the grapevine it is learned that something new in the way of replacements is to be undertaken on the Air, 3:30 Sunday afternoon, CFRN.

While Jane Froman and Percy Faith take an eight-week reprieve, the new stars stepping into their shoes will be outstanding stars from Latin America and Europe are to be brought to New York to present typical programs as they are aired in their respective countries.

Culmination of 29 weeks touring Northern Alberta towns is to be reached tonight, Saturday May 8, at the Edmonton Arena. Prize winners from each of the towns visited will take part in a mammoth Search for Talent program inter-

Churchill Sees Canada Occupying Dual Role

By Stuart Underhill

LONDON, May 8.—(CP)—Winston Churchill, sketching his dream of a world organization to the congress of Europe at The Hague yesterday, pictured Canada in a dual role, as a member of a bloc comprising Western Europe and the British Commonwealth and as a link with the western hemisphere.

White House Asks Postpone Strike

WASHINGTON, May 8.—(AP)—The White House was reported today to ask a 30-day rail strike postponement as hopes dimmed of settling the six-month-old wages and rules dispute without resorting to government seizure.

New peace talks were called by top presidential advisers in an effort to end the tight deadlock between carriers throughout the United States and three labor unions. Informants reporting the possible postponement request said it might be issued if no agreement is reached by May 11.

As settlement efforts continued six railroads imposed embargo orders on foods, poultry and livestock. At least 54 other lines planned the same step to avoid spoilage or strike-stranded cargo. John R. Steelman called management negotiators into private conference and it was indicated he also will meet again with heads of the three rail brotherhoods before the Tuesday strike deadline. Steelman's settlement efforts so far have been fruitless. Some feel President Truman might seize the country's entire rail system Monday.

AFTER STRUGGLE IN NEAR-SHORE WATERS

'Hand-Saw' Fish Caught By Bare-Handed Youth

VICTORIA, May 8.—(CP)—A rare, silver-tinted, deep-sea denizen four feet in length, received a surprise last night when a 16-year-old youth jumped out of his rooftop and grabbed it with bare hands.

The youth, Paul Norton, Victoria, told this story.

"I went out in a rooftop to fix an anchor. . . Then I saw something floating around in the water close to shore.

"I jumped out of the boat and grabbed it."

The fish put up a struggle and Paul ran to shore, grabbed a stick and finally succeeded in overcoming it.

Dr. Clifford Carl, director of the provincial museum here, said the specimen is a rare "hand-saw" fish usually found in 130 to 140 fathoms under the sea.

Going officially under the name of alepisaurus acael plus, the fish is called "hand-saw" because of the irregular scalloped appearance of its dorsal fin which is supported by many sharp spines.

Sparrow Smokes In Bed With Expected Results

When a sparrow smokes in bed and a cockroach kicks a man down the stairs, things are getting very odd. But that's what happened in 1947, according to Paul Jones, of the National Safety Council, Chicago.

And that isn't all. A hit-skip cow made traffic history and some busy bees boarded a street car and caused an accident. That was very dangerous "bee-bee-bee."

The annual round up of odd accidents by the National Safety Council reveals that animals stole the show during the past year.

In Camden, N.J., firemen answering a call to the home of Mrs. Marie Baugher, found the source of smoke pouring through the house to be a bird's nest under the roof. A sparrow had carried home a lighted cigarette. And just to prove that smoking in bed isn't restricted to sparrows, a pigeon in Washington, started an apartment house fire the same way.

The celebrated case of the cantankerous cockroach occurred in Detroit and involved John Nantico, a bakery employee. He said he was ascending stairs made slippery by spilled cake frosting when he looked into the eyes of the biggest cockroach any man ever saw. He kicked at the roach, the other foot slipped and he landed at the bottom of the stairs with a broken leg.

The hit-skip cow became part of the nation's traffic problem when it bowled over Mrs. Lucy Nostrand as she alighted from a bus at a busy intersection in Milwaukee. The bounding bovine, fugitive from a barn, whammed into Mrs. Nostrand, knocked her flat, and barreled on down the street.

Apparently stung by the high cost of living, bees took to street cars in Cincinnati. A frolicsome bunch of them swarmed aboard a trolley and convinced great interest in Motorman Earl Armstrong. As he frantically battled his bumbling passengers, the street car bumped into an auto, which rammed the rear of another. Meanwhile, buzz, buzz, buzz, went the trolley. And so you have the "freak accidents of the past year."

For Safety's Sake Check Your Car Now

The time to prepare the family car for summer driving is NOW. This is the advice of the Edmonton Safety Council who have requested all motorists to check their cars—and they'll check accidents.

When checking your car, make certain that it is in a safe operating condition, or if repairs and replacements are needed, be sure to have them attended to before taking the vehicle on the road.

Drive as your life depended upon it—it does, and so do the lives of others. A complete check of your car is important. Every portion of the vehicle should be thoroughly scrutinized. It takes but one faulty part to cause an accident, which will cause considerable damage and may or may not cost a life, or more.

Never take your car for granted for it may take you into trouble. Check it for safety's sake, remembering to drive carefully at all times.

If you neglected to repair your car and by your carelessness you caused a traffic accident or a death, you'd never forget or forgive yourself, so make certain that you observe all traffic rules.

Safety Council Has Great Record

Just Over Year Old Has Given Strong Lead

A record of great accomplishment is that of the Edmonton Safety Council. Organized a little more than a year ago, this group of public-minded citizens have done much to promote safety in each of its phases, throughout northern Alberta.

Key figure in the organization was Howard Stutchbury, prominent Edmonton businessman. A keen persuader and an enthusiastic supporter of his "brain child" he "sold" a number of well-known businessmen and civic officials on the idea. Original group included, deputy chief of police, Alex Riddell; Thomas Ferrier, superintendent of the Edmonton transit system; A. P. Gregory, R. L. Green, E. T. Love; C. H. Grant, R. L. Boutilier; E. C. Ensmott, W. H. Munroe and organizer Stutchbury.

Organization was adopted along the lines and policy recommended by the National Safety Council. Six committees were formed to deal with the various phases of safety. These were, industrial, public, traffic, home and farm.

A number of outstanding accomplishments were recorded during the past year. Cyclists were supplied with a new type of efficient and unbreakable reflector. Safety promotion campaigns were launched and safety literature distributed.

A courteous driver campaign was staged throughout July, August and September with various Edmonton motorists being awarded prizes for their safe and courteous driving on Edmonton streets. Safe driving display cards were distributed throughout the northern part of the province. An industrial safety contest and information pamphlets was held at and distributed to various industries. A number of new campaigns are being planned and will be launched as soon as arrangements are complete.

The Edmonton Safety Council, has done and is doing a noble job of promoting safety in northern Alberta. They ask your continued support and co-operation in their safety efforts.

7 Memory Joggers For Safety Sake

Following are a few travel safety reminders:

1. Remember to slow down and look out for cross-traffic at all intersections.
2. Remember to look for—and obey—all stop signs, and stop-and-go signals.
3. Remember it is unwise to pass another vehicle at an intersection.
4. Remember that a car approaching an intersection, from your right, should be given the right-of-way.
5. Remember, that, if you have the right-of-way, it isn't smart driving to blow your horn and barge on through if the other fellow doesn't see it your way.

6. Remember that cross traffic may not always consist of another car. It may be a child on roller skates or a boy or girl on a bicycle.

7. Remember that it is a matter of courtesy and safety to yield the right-of-way to pedestrians crossing the street in a marked or unmarked crosswalk at an intersection.

If we can fix these things in our mind—and if we drive accordingly—we'll do much to avert tragedy to ourselves and to others—at the crossroads.

Remember, drive and walk safely.

Hundreds of Edmonton Hockey Fans to Be in on "Kill" if Flyers Triumph

STAN MOHER
Bulletin Sports Editor
CALGARY, May 8.—In a few hours Edmonton may be paying tribute to its first Allan Cup winner Friday night, as members of the Flyers climbed between the sheets. It was the realization that they were just a prayer away from the amateur puck championship of the Dominion.

That prayer represented one more triumph at the expense of the Ottawa Senators. In four starts victory had gone the way of the westerners in three occasions. It wasn't too much to expect that a fourth and decisive win was in the cards for Saturday.

However, there was no disposition to take lightly Garry Tuin, Frank Mathers, and Lude Chalk and the balance of the Ottawa east. Champions of Eastern Canada, Senators still had to be rated a dangerous threat. There was no way of being certain that Coach George S. Bough's pucksters from the Canadian capital might not strike back for a victory that would prolong the series and force a sixth game in Edmonton on Monday night.

But one thing Alex Smart and Roy Trainer have agreed from the east to rejoin Senators. Smart, a high scoring forward, and Trainer, a defenseman, were unable to accompany the team when it headed west two weeks ago. However, they considered their earlier decision not to take part in the finals when Senators failed to make much head in the first four games. After having previously scheduled a workout for Friday night Senators finally called it off. However, Smart and Trainer headed for Victoria Arena where they skated for the better part of an hour.

IN ON THE "KILL"

From all accounts several hundred supporters will make the trip from Edmonton and other Northern Alberta points for Saturday's encounter. Beyond doubt most of them are planning on being in on the "kill." Even if it means a 360 mile jaunt they want to be on hand should Flyers make it all the way to the finals. The prize offered to the victors is a big one. The Victoria Arena will again be the scene of the game. One of the most ticket scrambles in history as fans clamor for the 5,300 or so ducks, including standing room that is available.

BLUE LINE RAMBLINGS

Harvey (Hug) Young, 200 pound center assist of the Flyers defense corps was in improved condition Friday night... He spent most of the day under the covers, trying to get the better of a sore throat.

Victoria Arena will again be the scene of the game. One of the most ticket scrambles in history as fans clamor for the 5,300 chance that he will be in the lineup Saturday.

Johnny Black, also likely to be on deck for what the Edmonton club hopes will be the 1947-48 final. Battered by a recurrence of a knee injury, Black took it easy as Flyers drilled Friday morning... Should Black be unable to make the grade the likelihood is that Louis Holmes will be pressed into service in his stead.

Edmonton's mayor, Harry D. Ainlay, will be in the pews for the fifth place of the series... As well as a number of members of the Edmonton Exhibition Association, including Manager Charlie Wilson, are expected to be present for an early morning departure for the scene of action.

Among those who reported in late Friday were Bill Gadsby, a starry young defenseman of Chicago Black Hawks, and Cy Thomas, who served hitches with Toronto and Pittsburgh this past season... Thomas, of course, won the Western Canada Hockey League rookie award while with Flyers in the 1946-47 season... Dr. Rupert Clark, former president of the Edmonton Athletic Club, and Mrs. Clark are others on the spot for the contest.

D. P. MacDonald, president of the WSHL, played host Friday afternoon to the members of the press and radio... It was a pleasant gathering that saw James McCaffrey manager of the Ottawa club, east in the role of story-teller extra ordinary... Oddly enough not a single representative of the Flyers made an appearance.

Highland Games Set For Renewal July 1

The skirling of bagpipes a-comin' through the rye will set the tune for the 22nd renewal of the Edmonton Highland Games and games on July 1 at the South Side Athletic grounds and Neil Sutherland, the greatest of Canadian pipers, is coming from Winnipeg to highlight the show.

The Highland Games Association met Friday night to last committee reports. President George Windick has called a second meeting for the EGD on May 21 at 8 o'clock.

Jack Campbell, chairman of the Canadian Wheel Association, is in charge of the athletic end of the games. Entry forms may be secured from Secretary H. A. Macrae, 9640 110 avenue, Edmonton.

Closing date for entries is 10:00 a.m. June 21.

Entry fee has been set at 25 cents for each event, with a maximum of $1.00. Rules of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada will govern the track and field events.

No less than 20 piping and dancing events have been arranged. Three new events have been added in the form of pipe and drumming contests for competitors under and over 19.

Thirty-two athletic events are scheduled. This list includes three bicycle classes—the half mile open, one mile open, and three miles, mix and match. Cycling has not been on the card in previous post-war games.

Among the executive of Friday's meeting were Scotty Laing, Jack Strachan, Jack Heilly, Tom Campbell, Deputy Police Chief Alex Riddell.

The bowling season is at hand and William McGruther of the Alberta Lawn Bowling Association would have you know that it promised to be a good one.

Mr. McGruther is secretary of the Alberta body. He announced Friday that the annual provincial meeting would be held in the Glenora Club Rooms, 1933 4th avenue, on Thursday, May 15 at 7:45. All members of the executive committee and two representatives from each club affiliated with the association are entitled to attend.

Annual provincial tournament will be staged in Edmonton during August 2-7, also included on the bowling agenda for the summer is a tentative trip of westerners to Ontario and Quebec. Dates suggested for the western invasion of eastern greens are August 15 to September 4 in Ontario, with the Montreal program September 6-9.

Six risks would likely comprise the excursion. Half of these would be recruited from B.C. and the remainder from the provinces.

Final meeting between the respective doubles champions saw George Docherty and Bill Hurdett of the Glenora Club triumph in three-straight games over the visiting team of Bill Hurdett and Derek Jackson.

City Handballers Near Alberta Title

Edmonton handball players, capturing eight out of nine games, took a big step toward retaining the provincial championship and the Leland-Royal George Trophy against a Calgary contingent at the YMCA Thursday evening.

The teams move to Calgary Saturday night, with Edmonton needing two victories to retain the title.

Dr. H. H. Hurdett, captain of the Edmonton squad and city singles champion, won two out of three closely-contested matches from the Calgary city king, Charlie Hulser. Scores were 21-17, 21-21 and 21-17.

In the rubber singles game, Clark Ready of Edmonton dumped Harry Spauld, Calgary, in straight games, 21-11, 21-11 and 21-14.

Final match between the respective doubles champions saw George Docherty and Bill Hurdett of the Glenora Club triumph in three-straight games over the visiting team of Bill Hurdett and Derek Jackson.

CYO Practice

GYO baseball team of the International League has scheduled a practice for the Stanley Leifur Athletic grounds Sunday at 2 o'clock. The team's new manager, Bill Leifur, is scheduled to arrive in Edmonton Saturday.

Yank Baseball Stars Arrive To Bolster Cubs and Esks

By Dick Beddoes
Add to every sign that Big Four baseball is on the threshold of the arrival of Tony Chulla, Frank Gonzales, and Ray Canepa in Edmonton Friday.

The trio were in the van of an American migration of ballplayers slated to labor for Edmonton teams in President Henry Heche's loop. Other ballplayers from Yankeland who will show here are Gus Basso, Ed Van Liden, Joe Masera, Ray Babin and Jim Westlake.

John Beatty and pretty wife Barbara met the American athletes in the absence of bedridden Sam Duesy. Beatty and President Heche will represent the Edmonton interests in a Big Four meeting at Calgary Saturday.

Gonzales and Chulla are on a repeat performance. Gonzales, who played for the Cubs last season, Chulla, the smallest player 5'3" in the circuit, topped the scale for 230 and stole 40 bases.

PLAYED WINTER BALL

They played winter ball in California's cool green meadows, and picked up experience with John on the slide. Frank, who mixed up with electrical appliances and Tony installed plastic table tops and such.

Canepa is reputed to be a fine young flycatcher who holds the outer reaches of parks with what the critics call "long-hit" balls. He is a husky youth who left the University of San Francisco prematurely this semester.

Ray owned an athletic scholarship at the school but didn't continue his Liberal Arts course. So Mr. Duesy signed the 19-year-old native of Princeton to play in Heffner Park's right field.

Gonzales missed a chance through contract difficulties to play with Decatur (Illinois) of the Three-League. Decatur is affiliated with Chicago Cubs and is a Class B prospect.

The curly-haired team will wear at Heffner Saturday after-noon if weather permits. Workouts commenced at 2 o'clock Saturday and Sunday, and go at seven on the work days.

They had a good trip. There was snow in Oregon and varied grades of precipitation between Edmonton and Vancouver.

Gonzales was philosophical about the moisture in Alberta. He vented that there was one good thing about rain, say what you like, it sure helps the gardens.

HEARD FROM THE DUCOUT

Edmonton's third season current attending classes at San Francisco State... Westlake rates as a first baseman from Sacramento and his long hair, white button catches and Van Liden works the mound and outfield... Joe Masera is an outlander expected to arrive here in June.

Gonzales and party waxed loudly on Johnny Vick and Tom Kelly, who performed for the Ducey-Flyers combine in Chicago years... Kelly pushed 'em up in '46 and since developed into a strapping six-foot-two, 200 pounder. He is leading the California college loop in hitting, playing outfield with Santa Clara.

Vick is registered at University of San Francisco and they say he is a good catch and his skill.

Big Paul Peterson, the hawk-eyed catcher from Rocky Mountain House, is also expected to be in the lineup at Heffner Park.

Rain, or No Rain, Edmonton Courses Likely to Be Crowded This Week-End

By Bert Greer
It may be a bit sweltering underfoot, but it wouldn't be surprising to see Edmonton's five courses crowded with golfers this week-end.

The Highlands club, evidently more impatient than the others, has decided to stage its official opening Sunday with the president as vice-president competition. The other courses will be open for play.

The draw for the Highlands event will be made at the first tee, with professional Henry Marx matching the players. Bert Burdick is president and Hugh Miller vice-president. The first players will leave the tee at 8:30 a.m.

MANFAIR and Country Club courses are in the shade with the chief obstacle being the slippery roads. Tommy Morrison, manager-secretary of the Mayfair, said the road at the top of the hill was in poor shape, but the course frame through the winter in the style.

The inter-club matches get underway next weekend and few of the players have had more than one round of golf so far this season. The scores will probably be in two-digit figures, but it will be the same for everyone.

While the weatherman was having a hard time of it, the club was enjoying the midweek and weekend rounds. There were some lucky breaks, but the weather was just what the doctor ordered.

ONE-TWO CALUMET PUNCH IN PREAKNESS

BALTIMORE, May 8.—(AP)—Calumet Farm's Coalton and Citation are going to renew their racing duel in the Preakness after all.

General Manager Ben Jones announced in Louisville Friday that owner Warren Wright had decided to send up the second half of the winning Kentucky Derby combination.

Jones said Coalton would be shipped next Monday or Tuesday to join Citation and keep intact Calumet's one-two punch for the second of the three-year-old classics a week from Saturday.

Besten 3½ lengths by Citation in the Derby, Coalton came out of his first defeat in fine shape, according to Jones. The blazing speed which he has shown still left many backers unconvinced he won't prove the superior.

Horses Train on Muddy Track

CALGARY, May 8. — The track at Victoria Park is still fetlock-deep in mud. Nevertheless it came alive early Friday morning as trainers of strings that wintered in Calgary and elsewhere in the west had the four-footed meat tickets out for their daily conditioning period.

One of the more sprightly of the early birds was Sam Ross, veteran owner. Along with his sons, Sam, Jr., and Harvey, Mr. Ross calls the shots for a string of close to 10 horses.

Harvey Ross played junior hockey in Edmonton two years ago.

Star of the Ross holdings is Leo's Lady, popular winner of the Speed to Spare Handicap at Edmonton last August. The famed Speed to Spare blanket presented each year for use by the winning horse, is among the prized possessions of the household.

Other mizzlers owned by Ross and Sons include Cal Kern, Ignatius and Proletarian. First named, almost a white horse, has a good reputation as a sprinter. He will be doing his stuff for the first time on the prairie circuit. "If this one doesn't win races," Owner Ross said of Cal Kern, "then I'll give up the game forever." That's how the newcomer is rated in stable gossip circles.

Ross Has Owned Pretty Sharp Stock

Of course Ross, who has been in this game more than just a few hours, has owned some pretty sharp stock down through the years. He had Noble King, for instance. Ross picked up the son of Nopperhan-Valley Park Maid for $500. In the end he sold for $10,000 the horse that holds the track record at Edmonton for six and one-half furlongs.

Today Noble King, despite being nine years of age, is feared by most of the Sun, Ains, Rex Meadows, Seattle's Longueurs and other West Coast strips.

He has to his credit a win over Mafoata, currently all the rage along the Pacific Coast.

Harold (Spud) Murphy, well known trainer-owner, was another who wasn't letting any grass grow under his brogan. With the opening of the season here in Calgary May 22 he will shoot with such good ones as Baby Broom (another that has stopped Mafoata), and Fay Mate.

Murphy wanted to talk about the sport of kings represents his breed and better.

"There's a really well balanced team," he summed up "it should be all over Saturday night."

Murphy comes close to being the originator of the pee-wee hockey idea in the province. He's keenly interested in the puck game.

Yates Has Likely Looking String

W. J. (Bill) Yates has a likely looking string all but ready for the gun. Among the absentees, however, is Sister's Best, Yates' star of last season. He's lost the daughter of Yankee Double via the claiming route at Toronto last fall. But he has added a pair of two-year-olds, Yates Senior and Yates Junior.

Among the well-known riders who sent the thoroughbreds through their paces were Roy Russell, Bill Taylor and the Johnson brothers, Eddie and Roy. Taylor will be remembered as having the mount on Co-ordinator the afternoon in Edmonton last August, when Rider Emile Roy was only prevented from making a clean sweep of the seven-horse race Co-ordinator nipped Last Sun, Roy's mount in this race, at the wire.

Fred Smith, clerk of the course on the Prairies, is already installed in the racing office here. He was busy Friday trying, among other things, to arrange stabling accommodations for the more than 400 horses expected to be on the grounds by May 22.

And finally Denny Layzell, who causes a lot of publicity for the racing folk, is authority for the news that Lou Davies will be on the scene by Monday. Davies is, of course, the well known form chart compiler.

Two Central Alberta Ball Leagues Formed

RED DEER, May 8. — Baseball fans in central Alberta will see plenty of ball this coming summer, some of it pretty fast ball, too, as two central Alberta leagues were organized at Red Deer recently.

Pomoka, Lacombe, Bentley, Elbow, Red Deer and Beekville will form one league (Central Alberta League) while Bentley, Blinman, Benito, Riverton, Lake, Rocky Mountain House and Niverville will form the other (West Central Alberta League). There is a possibility that Beekville also will enter a team in the latter circuit.

WEST BALL MEETING

The meeting at the Phelan hotel was the best attended baseball gathering held here for many years.

J. I. Phelan and E. H. Wells, both of Red Deer who were appointed provisional president and secretary, respectively, at a meeting last week, handled preliminary business.

The representatives decided to split up last year's ten-team league as it had been too unwieldy. Bill Wehring and Roy Leggett, both of Lacombe, were elected president and secretary, respectively.

Members of the executive are: J. D. Phillips, Beekville; Bob McClellan, Bentley; Earl Larkin, Elbow; Harvey Johnson, Red Deer; Colin

Boston Braves Shell Ewell Blackwell 4-3

NEW YORK, May 8. — (CP) — Cincinnati Reds, with the outstanding rookie slugger of the 1948 baseball season on their roster, are floundering in the National League's second division and the chief cause of their lowly position was shelled from the mound in the sixth inning Friday.

Slender Ewell Blackwell, the league's top hurler last year, hasn't gone the route in five starts. His record of two wins and three losses is strictly the product of halting hitting youngsters like Ted Kluszewski and Hank Sauer, who leads the league in home runs with six, have carried the ball, but the pitching staff is built around Blackwell and Ewell, hasn't found the plate yet.

Friday six walks, homers by Bob Elliott and Jeff Heath and three other safeties in 5 2/3 innings cost Blackwell the ball game as Boston Braves grabbed a 4-3 decision.

There was more bad news for the Redlegs in the dressing room after the game when they learned Blackwell had suffered a shoulder injury and would be out for the club for an indefinite period.

The pitching was no better in Chicago, where the last-place Cubs dropped a 9-5 decision in Brooklyn Dodgers in a game that lasted three hours and 36 minutes.

HUGH CASEY WINS

Pittsburgh Hugh Casey, who held the Cubs scoreless for the last two frames, was the winner.

The casualty rate on pitchers climbed at St. Louis Friday night as Philadelphia Phillies lost their second starter in three days. He was veteran knuckleballer Dutch Leonard, who retired in the third inning when struck on the hip by a line drive, Schoolboy Rowe of the Phils suffered a similar injury Tuesday.

Leonard had held the Cardinals hitless up to that point, but the Red Birds pounded on Wal. Duhal and Over Judd, who followed him, to rack up a 7-4 victory. Nippy Jones got a three-run homer for the winners.

Don Lemon, a reformed infielder, won his third game of the season for Cleveland Indians, turning in a four-hitter to beat Washington Senators 8-0.

Lemon collected three of Cleveland's 13 hits, but Alvin Clark and Joe Gordon provided the main offensive push with fifth inning home runs. Gordon's homer, double and single accounted for four of the Indians runs.

Mortons Drill

Mortons Indoor Ladies football club will hold a practice Sunday afternoon on the outside diamond on Kingsway Park. Drill will commence at 1 o'clock.

At the end of the season the winners of each league will meet in a consolation game for the championship of Central Alberta.

Alberta Fighters Take Big Licking At Western Finals

Varsity's Gerald Dahms Registers Lone Triumph

VANCOUVER, May 8. — (CP) — British Columbia boxers Friday night dominated the western Canada diamond belt boxing championships as all but one fighter, who defaulted, won their bouts to enter the finals Saturday night.

Alberta boxers took the biggest licking. Only Gerald Dahms of Edmonton—who won by a technical knockout over Jack Koszka of Winnipeg—won his bout as seven other Albertans—one of them a Dominion champ—were eliminated.

Montana pugilists were runners-up for semi-final honors with five of their eight-man squad winning contests. Saskatchewan came third with three wins.

CLOSE DECISION

Laurie Maclean, Edmonton's western intercollegiate welter-weight champion, dropped a close decision to short-jabbing Lyle Kenner of Vancouver.

Winnipeg lightweight titlist Bill Brenner showed too much skill for Hugh MacDonald, of Edmonton.

In the best bout of the night, highly-touted Eddie Zastre of Winnipeg lived up to advance entry by knocking out the champion of Regina in the second round of a hard-hitting contest.

STILL IN RUNNING

Of the three Dominion title-holders still in the running, the weight 106 White of Winnipeg, declared Keith Guway of Regina, and heavyweight Frank White of Winnipeg had to go the route to take the measure of Harvey Louie of Pincher Creek, and heavyweight Allan Paul of Regina blasted out a one-round knockout over Jim Parker of Edmonton.

Eddie Haddad, British Columbia's brightest hope, won by a technical knockout in the first round from Corky Corrigan of Winnipeg.

An estimated $7,000 crowd—highest since Joe Louis fought an exhibition bout here two years ago—thronged into the Forum for the contests.

FLYWEIGHT RESULTS

Don Waller, Vancouver, defeated Gordon Shaw, Carleton Place, Ontario, by a 10-0 decision.

The number of diesel locomotives in the United States has increased about 75 per cent in the last 10 years.

BOB LOCKE TRAILING BARRON BY 1 POINT

NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y., May 8. — (AP) — Herman Barron of White Plains, N.Y., limped over the rain-swept Wyngard Country Club course in 69 shots Friday to gain a one-point lead over defending champion Bobby Locke of South Africa after 36 holes of the Goodall round robin tournament.

Barron's wrenched ankle was so swollen it was necessary to give him a shot of painkiller before he could play. Despite the pain, which alternated between a drizzle and a downpour and reduced the gallery to a few hundred, Barron was out in 33 strokes—four under par—and came back in 36 to gain 11 valuable points on his three playing companions, Lloyd Mather, Jim Clark, Harmon and Henry Cotton.

He got another break when, at the conclusion of the session, tournament officials decided to postpone a scheduled afternoon round until Saturday. Barron hoped the ankle would benefit sufficiently by the rest to enable him to last through the three remaining rounds of the event.

Locke, revelling in the rain, made his way around the sudden 450 yards for the second straight day in 69 shots, achieving his best score for the two rounds was the best among the 16 entries, but he chanced to have just a little stroke in opposition from the six rivals he had met or watch play an far

New Property Tax Bylaw Is Passed

Westlock Municipality Levy Hits Oil Drilling Equipment

WESTLOCK, May 8. — Westlock Municipal District approved a bylaw at a recent regular meeting providing for the levying of a personal property tax, because of the large amount of valuable equipment being brought into the district.

The by-law will apply to materials and equipment used for oil development, brush cutting and other personal property used by contractors generally.

Council also struck the mill rate at 23 mills for the municipality which is in addition to the rates for various school districts.

SCHOOL RATES HIGHER
School mill rates were struck on a basis of straight requisitions, resulting in the following:

Westlock S. D. No. 47, 23 mills, for a total of 45; Athabasca, 23 mills for a total of 44; Thorburn, 20, for a total of 51; Hardhead, 20, for a total of 47; and 28 for a total of 50. Westlock Consolidated, 20 for a total of 48.

Total school requisitions in 1947 came to $122,000 and in 1948, $131,000, which is an increase in excess of the 20 per cent allowed under provincial regulations of increases per year. Council will register protest of the increase to provincial authorities.

SEED CLEANING PLANT
Council expressed favor at the proposal of erecting a seed cleaning plant in Westlock, and passed a request to the Agricultural Service Board to sponsor details of organization of such a plant and report back to council.

Grants provided for in the budget included $50 to the community survey, $50 to the Health Home, $50 to the Westlock and District Agricultural Society, $150 to the Association Army, $100 to the Institute for the Blind, and $125 to the APU as per per capita rate.

At the last annual meeting, with the proviso that a like amount be made available to another farmer-organization, for which application was made this week by the UFA, which is associated with the APU.

Council agreed to provide up to $250 for a test room provision in the community hall if the town were not used for food already had been sent. WI spent were presented to Mrs. A. ## King, Queen to Hold Five Garden Parties

By Norman Gribbens
LONDON, May 8. — (CP) — In the green, spacious grounds of Buckingham Palace thousands of home and overseas visitors, including Canadians, will be entertained by the King and Queen at five garden parties this summer.

The two main events are July 8 and 22. Among the 7,000 guests to be invited on both occasions will be the Prime Minister and cabinet members of the House of Lords, the diplomatic corps, the Lord Mayor of London, mayors of towns and boroughs, famous judges and counsel, high officers of the Church of England and the three services.

High commissioners of Commonwealth countries resident in London will also be invited, in addition to large numbers of visitors from overseas.

Applications from Canadian visitors wishing to attend either of the July parties must reach the Canadian high commissioner in London by the end of this month.

There will also be three presentation garden parties at the palace May 12 and 13 and June 11, replacing the evening courts at which debutantes were presented in previous times.

"No further applications for these three events can now be considered," a Canada House official said. "The lists are closed, but I can say that many Canadian visitors will be presented."

Applications made to the Canadian high commissioner are forwarded to the Lord Chamberlain, the Earl of Ancaster, who, with the consent of the King and Queen, issues invitations.

KIDDIES ON SHOPPING BEE FOR MOM'S SPECIAL PRESENT

MOTHER'S DAY SUNDAY means little people and big people all over the country are shopping for something to show their appreciation and affection for their best gal—Mom. Even a handful of babies—with the right sentiment—hits home with Mother. Doug and Patty Mohr are bargaining with florist, Alberta Brockie, over a bouquet of pastel sweetpeas. This is a serious business and the small fry are a bit awed by the whole procedure.

TO EVERYBODY'S MOTHER

To wish for you on Mother's Day
A sunny path along your way,
The joys that make life sweet to live,
The gladness that true friendships give,
The blessings that you hold most dear,
Whatever brings you greatest cheer,
Each plan and every hope come true,
A happy heart in all you do.

Remember all the times she fixed your hurt finger or smoothed ruffled feelings? Little Judy Unwin is all eyes for her bread and jam—but don't ever think she doesn't appreciate her Mom—Mrs. Jack Unwin.

Air Is Great House Insulator

An Elementary Fact Often Neglected Says City Expert

Elementary as it may sound, air is a great insulator; but elementary though it is, too many home-owners neglect the fact in insulating, with the result that after spending considerable money in attempting to warm their homes, they find themselves just as chilly as ever—and paying fuel bills just as high as ever.

The secret, according to Russell Otto, Edmonton service man, using DRY (in capital letters and with much emphasis) materials in doing the job. It seems, to quote the expert opinion, that wet insulation—shavings—packs tightly, with the result that frost or heat runs through the material in the same manner as it got through the original framework.

Dry shavings on the other hand, Mr. Otto uses and recommends spruce shavings are "cushioned" into place, leaving a wealth of air spaces and resisting the onslaught of weather extremes. This, says Mr. Otto, backed by years of experience in this work, is proper insulation.

From his headquarters at 2661 85 avenue, Mr. Otto specializes in insulating older houses. Most of Edmonton's new homes are insulated as they are constructed and at any rate, as he explains, the older a house is, the greater is its need for insulation. A sinking foundation, loose outside boards, sagging corners, all these bring about a need for lowering increased fuel bills.

INSULATION NECESSARY
Insulation is the only satisfactory method. Like most home-owners who have tried living without insulation, Mr. Otto believes that no home should be without it in this part of the country.

Contractor, house-builder and insulator in Edmonton for more than twelve years, Mr. Otto has handled insulating jobs throughout this city and district. Together with the experienced crew which he has on hand at all times, he finds that he can insulate the average five-room bungalow in about eight hours at a cost of less than $100. Larger houses take more time and cost more, commensurate with the case, he guarantees a 25% saving in fuel costs.

Insulation on an insulating project are given free and cost without obligation by members of the Otto firm. The actual work is done by the latest machinery and equipment.

Contrary to what one might expect, insulation does not necessarily disrupt the entire house. It is not a wholesale reconstruction job. Rather it is a question of blowing the insulation material into the walls through small, carefully selected openings; the same applies to roof insulation.

Among projects Mr. Otto has handled that, wet or dry, are large, medium and small churches, hotels and other buildings. Many of his clients have found that after insulating their fuel costs are cut by as much as 50 per cent.

Mr. Otto emphasizes that ANY frame house can be insulated—and in this country, SHOULD be.

Insulation is as important in the summer as in the winter. The same insulation that provides winter comfort will keep out summer heat, making the home twenty to thirty degrees cooler. Other advantages include the doing away of only wall stains caused by dampness.

Whenever there is a temperature difference between two sides of a wall, floor or roof, heat travels from the warm to the cool side. If the attic is uninsulated, heat escapes through the roof. Melted snow forms ice at the eaves, moisture from the melting ice seeps through the walls, causing unsightly stains and loosening plaster and wallpaper.

Condensation or sweating also causes wall stains. This too is prevented by insulated walls and attic.

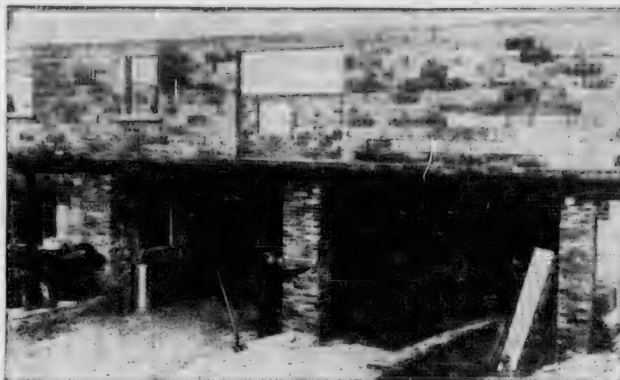

Mr. Otto stresses the fact that while redecorating is a costly procedure, insulation is economical, and if properly done, lasts the lifetime of the house or building.

Elizabeth, Philip Not Restricted On Holiday Plans

LONDON, May 8.—(Reuters).—Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh will not be restricted in their plans for a holiday in the British Isles, when they visit Paris at the end of next week as ambassadors of good-will, it was learned today.

Nor will they be classed as business travellers who are allowed 25 day expenses.

Their shopping, however, will be discreet. It was pointed out that, although their visit is not a state one, they still are guests of France and, in that capacity must show their hosts the "common courtesy" of purchasing a "few" things.

CLARENCE BOOTH, businessman of Lakewood, N.J., is building an atom-bomb-proof home. The house has one floor above ground and one floor below. It will be reinforced with tons of steel and concrete. It will be protected against atomic radiation by glass-like tile, and against poisonous gases by an air-proof locking door system.

MONTREAL, May 8.—(CP).—The Canadian National steamship liner Canadian Constructor sailed today on the first passenger trip of the season to the British West Indies.

Churchill's Memoirs Tell of Naval Battle

NEW YORK, May 8.—(AP).—Winston Churchill describes in the current installment of his war memoirs the beginning of his wartime correspondence with President Roosevelt, covering almost 1,000 communications from each.

The installment is the fourth of five being published in Life magazine from the first volume of the memoirs. There are to be five volumes in all, Life and the New York Times are publishing the memoirs in the United States. The Montreal Standard holds Canadian rights.

The first letter from Roosevelt was sent to Churchill in September, 1939, shortly after the outbreak of war in Europe.

It reminded Churchill that both men had occupied similar navy posts in the First World War and asked the Briton to send sealed letters on anything he wanted to keep Roosevelt informed about.

Churchill says he replied promptly, using the signature "naval person." He employed this pseudonym throughout the long correspondence.

BATTLE IN DETAIL
Churchill, who was first lord of the admiralty in the early days of the recent conflict, tells in detail of the battle of the River Platte which ended with the destruction of the German raider, the Pocket battleship Graf Spee.

This action, in which three smaller British ships put to flight the Graf Spee, gave the British people a great lift in the weary first winter of the war, Churchill says.

The former prime minister also writes of the damage done by German submarines and a new, more invulnerable mines, in the first months of the war.

STROKE OF LUCK
By a stroke of good luck, he says, a German plane was seen to drop one of the new mines close to shore in November, 1939. Navy experts found the mine and dismantled it, with the result that effective counter-measures were worked out.

B.C. Justice Rules War Legally Over

VANCOUVER, May 8.—(CP).—Chief Justice W. B. Farris in British Columbia, supreme court today ruled the Second World War is over.

The Dominion government has not issued an endorsement declaration, but Chief Justice Farris ruled that the conflict ended with the National Emergency Powers Act, Jan. 1, 1946.

His decision was given in a $200,000 will case. The will left by Thomas A. Blair, Vancouver mines promoter, provided that 2,666 mining shares go to his wife until a year after the war ended. Mr. Blair died March 13, 1945.

Chief Justice said he would consider disposition of the will on its merits. The Queen's Hospital was left 10 per cent and W. W. Kennedy, K.C. of Winnipeg five per cent of the residuary estate.

Society Protests Awarding of KC's To Govt. Lawyers
SASKATOON, May 8.—(CP).—The Law Society of Saskatchewan yesterday passed a resolution "deeply regretting" legislation passed this year permitting lawyers in the public service to be made barristers by the provincial government.

The society said the title "barrister" is a title of honor derived in the Mother Country from a long history and it was "desirable that this ancient title should be maintained as a real mark of merit and experience in its bearers."

The Saskatchewan legislature at its last session passed amendments to the King's Counsel Act, authorizing the lieutenant-governor-in-council to bestow the title on Crown law officers, even if they did not have the 10-years experience in the practice required of practicing lawyers. Four have since received the title.

WHY YOU SHOULD INSULATE NOW!

Are your walls marred by UGLY STAINS?

Whenever there is a temperature difference between two sides of a wall, floor or roof, heat travels from the warm to the cold side. If your attic is uninsulated, heat escapes through the roof. Melted snow forms ice at the eaves (see illustration). Moisture from the melting ice seeps through the wall, causes unsightly stains—loosens plaster and wallpaper.

Condensation or sweating also causes wall stains. You have, no doubt, seen moisture condense on the outside of a cold drink during hot weather. The same thing happens when moisture-laden air comes in contact with cold wall surfaces.

You can stop this costly annoyance by insulating the walls and attic of your home.

Wonders Worked By Coat of Paint

But Color Schemes Must Be Chosen With Care

By Bert Nightingale

On one of the residential side-streets on the South Side, near the outskirts of the city, there stood for years three small erections which passed as homes. Surrounded by attractive bungalows and cottages, these structures were an eyesore to every home-loving citizen in the neighborhood.

While the three shacks were sturdily built and had stood the ravages of time reasonably well, their appearance still left much to be desired.

In color they resembled old-time rusty-red freight cars, and in spite of everything the neighbors did to beautify their own homes, these places still made the street seem shoddy.

A couple of months ago, the eyesores were purchased by a young war veteran.

Last week-end, with the help of some of his brothers, he undertook a paint-up campaign.

In just two days, those old shacks were transformed into very presentable white cottages.

By mid-summer, with gardens and flowers in full bloom, the roadside shacks will be as fitting to the rest of the street as any of the houses.

And that's an example of what a thorough paint job can do in transforming the older house—give it the new look. Undertaken by the owner of the house, painting CAN be a tough job—but not necessarily. Careful planning beforehand, choice of colors, and early advice by paint experts can simplify the work considerably.

Contractors advise the employment of trained painters when it comes to coloring the new house.

FIRST COAT IMPORTANT

The first coat of paint on new lumber greatly determines the appearance of the house—not only at the outset but in months to come. Proper sizing, the right finishing coat, the texture and quality of interiors, all these factors are important in the choice of color. While white remains the most popular hue for walls, there is a variety of colors and shades quite apt for use on the roof and trimmings. However, the home-owner should bear in mind the question of color harmonies.

While not suggesting that uniformity is the proper touch in a block of houses, it is true that surrounding colors play a part in what will make the finished job look best. If, for instance, every house in your block has a red or brown roof, or shades of these colors, a bright blue roof on your house will stick out like a sore thumb—will not add to the beauty of your home.

KEEP IN HARMONY

You can still be original without being out of harmony. You should select some such color as green; a proper shade will look well on a house with a red roof. It will stand out—but it won't glare out.

By the same token, proper selection of color for trimming the house can make, rather than mar, the appearance. A gaudy color for

Sowing Seeds Too Deeply, Avoided By Easy Method.

For shallow Drill for Tiny seeds, Press Edge of Board into Soil.

Use Hoe Handle to Make Drill for Medium sized Seeds.

Stretch Line Tight and Keep It Straight.

When it says on the seed packet: "Sow in a drill," it means in a shallow trench. Sometimes it may say: "Sow at a depth equal to four times the diameter of the seed."

This is likely to be puzzling to the beginner, who may look at a radish seed and wonder how he can make a shallow trench just four times its diameter. More experienced gardeners have learned that precise measurement is impossible, with small seeds; and indeed it is not needed.

The main point in sowing seeds is to take care not to bury them so deep they will fail to emerge from the soil. This can be accomplished by the three methods of making drills which are illustrated here.

For tiny seeds, press the edge of a straight stick into the soil. For medium sized seeds, make the drill by using the end of the hoe handle.

For larger seeds use the edge of the hoe blade, pressed lightly if you want an inch-deep drill, more heavily for deeper sowing.

The depth to use depends somewhat on the nature of the soil. In sandy loam they may go a little deeper than in heavy clay; and in wet weather they should be at least twice as deep as in the moist spring weather.

Above all, in making a drill, keep it straight. Some gardeners use a narrow plank as a ruler. A garden line is easier to handle, heavy cords on reels are handy, but any stout cord stretched between two stakes will serve.

But use the line as a guide, and never press the hoe against it, for it will bend, and your garden row may turn out to be serpentine. If this happens, fill up the drill and try it over again. You will soon acquire the knack.

Window frames, doorways, etc., will give the house all the dignity of a three-story circus. A better choice would be a color that's bright enough to give contrast to other colors on the house, without the barber-pole effect.

Edmonton paint manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers are in a position to advise in the matter of color and color harmony. They are always pleased to do so. A study of the color charts which they have available, and a chat with a paint representative will put the new home-owner straight on what's good in house-painting.

Interior painting has problems of its own, depending largely on whether you do the job yourself, or have trained assistance. In the latter case, the problems are simplified. One or two hints on the first case might be handy.

MUST BE CLEAN

Floors, about to be varnished must be scrupulously cleaned beforehand. If this involves old-fashioned elbow grease, roll up your sleeves and go to it! A few hours' work with a scrub brush will avoid the endless difficulties in the path of the lady of the house whose floors never look right otherwise. Dirt on the floor under the varnish results in roughness; that sooner or later will have to be ironed out with a sander and the whole job undertaken again.

Then, make certain that your varnish is the best! Pay as much as you possibly can afford, to get the best grade obtainable. You'll never be sorry.

CONSULT CHARTS

Walls and ceiling of the house inside should be painted with even more regard in color harmony than the exterior. Here is where you'll live. If colors clash, here is where the disharmony will bring you grief. Consult your color charts closely, be sure you have the correct blend of just the correct color. Interior trimming should be done with a view to conservative contrast, rather than glaring color changes.

Russia Is Blamed For Atomic Failure

LAKE SUCCESS, May 8.—(CP)—Six countries including Canada urged the United Nations yesterday to stop work looking toward world atomic control until Russia decides to co-operate.

Britain, the United States and France formally recommended that the UN Atomic Energy Commission suspend deliberations on atomic control and pass the whole problem back to the full UN assembly.

If the commission agrees, it will be the first UN body to acknowledge failure.

Belgium and Columbia also endorsed their recommendation. Russia and the Soviet Ukraine flatly opposed the move and charged once more that the United States does not want atomic control. They said the possibilities for agreement were not exhausted.

The atomic commission delayed a final vote until a later meeting. Frederick H. Ashton, American deputy on the commission and chairman for this month, said the proposal was so serious that it must have full discussion. He posed a vote until the debate was ended and adjourned the meeting subject to the call of the chairman.

The three-power statement said the majority of the commission had been unable to get the agreement of the Soviet Union even to technical points considered necessary for effective control.

Canadian delegate Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton said that the measures of inspection and control outlined in Russian proposals "could not be made to give the security and safeguards which nations need and have a right to expect."

"The opportunities for evasion and for clandestine activities are so many and so wide that no nation could safely confide its security to a system developed on any such weak foundation," he added.

U.K. BIRD WATCHERS HAVE REAL JOB NOW

LONDON, May 8.—(AP)—All England is worked up about a fugitive pelican.

Since the bird escaped from the London Whipsnade Zoo Thursday Britons have become pelican spotters.

There have been many clues—mostly misleading.

The British Broadcasting Corporation appealed to its listeners not to shoot, explaining that the best lure to catch a fugitive pelican is a good looking fish.

Aviation editors reported that the top speed of a pelican is 14 miles an hour, so the vagrant can't be far away.

Last evening searchers were converging on the water reservoirs of Tring, 10 miles from the zoo, where there are fish which ought to interest a pelican.

First Instalment Bonus Payment To Be Made Soon

OTTAWA, May 8.—(CP)—The first of the government's emergency payments to help boost gold production will likely be made about the end of June, a cabinet source said last night.

The empowering legislation, passed earlier by the Commons, was approved Thursday by the Senate and now awaits Royal Assent.

The Mines Department is preparing machinery for paying the bonus retroactively to last Jan. 1. The final move will be Finance Minister Abbott's submission to the Commons of supplementary estimates covering the payments.

Employment Up

How to Prune Roses

By Walter Wilson

The illustrations below show the proper method of pruning, and it is important that all bedding roses be hard pruned, especially in the first year. This should be done about two weeks after planting when rooting has started to grow.

The stems should be cut back to two shoots or eyes, but in the case of stronger varieties three eyes from the bottom. In this way it leaves less buds for that particular stem to develop more quickly producing further blooms. In other words, by cutting your blooms on a long stem you will secure another crop of good blooms, not only earlier but you will secure larger blooms.

In the case of older bushes, all weak growth should be cut out and the main stems cut down to four eyes, leaving the last eye pointing outwards so as to provide lots of breathing space for the strong shoots, allowing them to spread out more.

Never prune bushes in the fall for this encourages new growth at the time the bushes should be coming to the dormant stage and preparing for their winter's rest.

Cutting blooms is just as necessary as pruning. When cutting rose blooms be sure to cut down the stems to within three or four buds or leaves from the bottom. In this way it leaves less buds for that particular stem to develop more quickly producing further blooms. In other words, by cutting your blooms on a long stem you will secure another crop of good blooms, not only earlier but you will secure larger blooms.

when pruning cut down to an 'eye' or leaf (every leaf has an eye), not just below it, as the stem dies back to an eye.

Conroy Is Given Audience By Pope

ROME, May 8.—(CP)—Pat Conroy, Canadian representative on the executive committee of the World Federation of Trade Unions, met here yesterday for a reception in audience by Pope Pius XII.

The secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Congress of Labor said that he gained the impression that the Pontiff is profoundly concerned with the need of social and economic reform in Italy.

He said that the Pope believes the Communist defeat in the recent Italian elections was "a victory won, not a war." Conroy added that the Pope gave him the view that by their victory the anti-Communist forces in Italy had gained the opportunity to show what they can do to meet the workers' aspirations.

Summons Issued To Kinsmen's Chairman

VANCOUVER, May 8.—(CP)—City Prosecutor Gordon Scott yesterday authorized a summons charging Syd Welsh, Kinsmen Club charity drive chairman, with conducting an illegal scheme to raise funds. Action followed seizure of Kinsmen food-for-Britain drive tickets in a police crackdown on alleged lotteries in Vancouver.
